Car Rams Home On Taylor's Bend

Another major accident occurred early this morning at Taylor's Bend, on Route 30 near Chester, when a car crashed into the home of William Mackall Jr.

The driver of the 1960 four-door sedan was Berthin M. Rouviere, 29, of Clinton R.D. 1, who told Hancock County sheriff's deputies he lost control as he descended the long winding grade.

The occupants of the residence — Mackall, his wife, Pauline, two daughters, Belinda and Paula, and Mildred Taylor — were sleeping in bedrooms in the front part of the home in the area above and behind the fallen porch.

No one was injured.

Damage to the home was estimated at $2,000, and to the westbound car at $600.

Rouviere was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control following the crash, timed at 1:30 by the sheriff's department.

Police Chief Audley Campbell of Chester reported this morning that Rouviere had been picked up Thursday afternoon on a hit - and - run charge after the auto of William Cornell, special patrolman, had been struck in the rear at Chester.

A friend had posted $55.50 bond for Rouviere for a later hearing. He was then released, Campbell said.

Mackall, his father and other residents have made repeated efforts to have corrective measures taken to ease the dangerous situation at the "bend."

The elder Mackall said this morning that West Virginia Road Commission officials have promised to erect a steel guardrail alongside a section of the road near the home, but have not followed through as yet on the project.

There have been serious accidents, some resulting in fatalities, at Taylor's Bend.

25 Miles From Saigon

GIs Uncover Cong Tunnel; Believed Red Headquarters

Maps, Plans, Guns Found In 'Boring'

May Have Served As Launching Area For Cong Attacks

SAIGON (AP)—Operation Cedar Falls turned up a massive tunnel today within the Iron Triangle that may have served as the long-sought headquarters of the Viet Cong's 4th Military Region, from which Communists have launched attacks on Saigon outposts.

Men of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade probed the tunnel. Brig. Gen. Richard T. Knowles, the brigade commander, said they found maps, plans, weapons, booby traps and some guerrillas within the vast boring, 25 miles northeast of Saigon. This was one phase of a drive engaging about 30,000 American and South Vietnamese troops.

In the air war, American bombers hammered at North Vietnamese rail yards and main lines Thursday for the fourth straight day. But U.S. military headquarters reported two of the planes and the four fliers who manned them did not return.

Many of the strikes were against the northeast line, along "MIG Valley" in the Red River Delta, but there was no report of any MIGs rising to challenge the American raiders.

Ground fighting in South Vietnam was confined to small, scattered engagements, but allied commanders reported a series of clashes from the southern tip of the country through the northern provinces.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a government force of regimental size — about 1,500 men — launched a search-and-destroy sweep in southernmost An Xuyen Province and in the first day killed 16 Viet Cong. This was one of five scattered operations in which the Vietnamese command said a total of 43 Viet Cong were killed. Casualties to government troops were reported light in all five.

Vietnamese headquarters also reported that government troops repulsed a mortar and ground attack against a military post 60 miles southwest of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. A spokesman said 15 Viet Cong were killed and government casualties were light.

In the northern province of Thua Thien, the U.S. Marine base camp and airstrip at Phu Bai, 10 miles southeast of Hue, was hit by 30 to 35 mortar rounds today, but U.S. headquarters said U.S. casualties and damage to equipment were light.

The two planes that went down Thursday raised the total reported lost in the air war against the north to 462. North Vietnam claimed three planes were shot down Thursday.

North Viet Raids Seen As Failure

U.S. Visitor Says Bombing Halt May Hold Key To Talks

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The bombing of North Vietnam has been a failure, a recent U.S. visitor to Hanoi reports. He said the question of a halt in the bombing of the Communist North may be critical for the chances of peace talks.

Harry S. Ashmore, executive vice president of the Center for Study of Democratic Institutions, presented this opinion to a news conference Thursday. At the same time he reported that North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh was quite interested in an invitation to send a representative to a convocation on world peace in Geneva in May.

Ashmore, who returned Monday from North Vietnam, stressed that the May meeting would be unofficial and could by no means be considered a forum for Vietnam peace negotiations. But he expressed hope that Ho's interest meant that "something tengible" was developing in the way of a changed Hanoi attitude toward peace negotiations.

Ashmore told the news conference that "my own judgment is that I consider the bombing a failure" and that from what he had seen and heard, the type of bombing now going on would not end the war. Instead, he said, it was strengthening North Vietnam's unity.

The North Vietnamese officials, he said, seem aware that alone they can never muster strength enough to push U.S. forces into the sea, but he said he had the impression they felt they could not lose the war either.

"We should take any step possible to end the war. If I were president, I would certainly stop the bombing. I am not one of those who are critical of the President's policies, but I feel that if there are to be any negotiations, it will call for concessions on both sides."

Ashmore said that without question the U.S. bombings of the North had caused severe dislocations there.

He said: "Certainly North Vietnam has been inconvenienced, but not in the sense of reducing its war effort. My own judgment is that I consider the bombing a failure. The damage done has had an effect, but it has been offset by the unity it has given the country.

"The morale is extremely high. The people have been solidified behind the government. The problem, in military terms, is that to be really effective, theoretically, would mean it would be necessary to disrupt communications, but that would require escalation of the bombing effort.

"If the war is spread, it might well bring in the Chinese."

GOP Against Tax Boost

Dirksen Urges Stronger Effort To End Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appraising the state of a "vexed and troubled" union, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has prescribed reinforced U.S. determination and "a more vigorous effort on land, sea and in the air" to end the war in Vietnam.

And House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford has vowed Republican opposition to a wartime tax increase until President Johnson makes "a convincing case" for the boost he seeks.

The two minority leaders delivered their joint appraisal Thursday night before some 250 Republican colleagues in the Capitol's hot, crowded old Supreme Court chamber.

Ford said November's election victories gave the GOP a mandate to chart "a new direction for America. "As we look ahead, Republicans see a program of sensible solutions for the seventies," he said.

"Why don't we come up with some positive solutions for the sixties?" Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield asked later.

Another Democrat was more caustic in his assessment of the appraisal.

"I gather that Messrs. Dirksen and Ford are strongly in support of the Vietnam war, but strongly opposed to paying for it," said Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. "This would have those who are fighting and dying make the only sacrifice."

But there were only Republicans to cheer, no Democrats to chide, when Dirksen and Ford delivered the twin speeches they said were neither replies nor rebuttals to the State of the Union message Johnson took to Congress 10 days ago.

Dirksen and some of his Republican colleagues were on the White House guest list for a buffet and reception a few hours before the speech.

The Republicans show was produced with a minute-by-minute timetable, designed for live, network television. There was none, although the speeches were filmed and recorded for later showing. Two radio networks — NBC and Mutual — broadcast the speeches.

Ford spliced into his speech a call for legislation "requiring television and radio to provide free and equal treatment to major parties and their spokesmen" between, as well as during, political campaigns.

Sea Search Continues For Heiress, Husband

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Planes and ships continued to search the eastern Caribbean today but there was still no clue to the disappearance of the wealthy dughter of the U.S. ambassador to Britain, her husband, and their pilot on a charter flight Tuesday from San Juan to the Virgin Islands.

Commercial DC7s of Caribbean Atlantic Airlines joined military and civilian search planes Thursday, flying a few hundred feet over the water to look for Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Currier of New York, and John D. Watson, the pilot.

Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, arriving in New York Thursday from London, said the hunt for his 33-year-old daughter seemed "pretty hopeless."

Currier, 36, is well known as a philanthropist and civil rights advocate.

'Keep The Faith, Baby'

Record Powell's Major 'Weapon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-playing record entitled "Keep the Faith, Baby" is going to be one of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's major weapons in his fight for his House seat.

The record, a collection of statements and observations about his congressional colleagues and sermons by the Harlem politician- preacher, is coming out next week. If it's a hit, Powell hopes he will have solved one of his big problems.

He plans to turn all royalties from sales of the record over to Mrs. Esther James, the Harlem widow who holds a $164,000 slander judgment against him. His failure to pay or to respond to other court orders in connection with the suit has led to his being ordered jailed for contempt of court if he appears in New York.

Powell's chief aide, C. Sumner Stone, said persons who have heard the record describe it in such terms as "fantastic," "unbelievable" and "wild."

The record was made last week by Jubilee records, Stone said, and will be given an intensive publicity campaign and nationwide distribution. Powell is to get 22 cents per record as both the author and performer, which means a sale of 750,000 records would bring in enough to pay the court judgment.

Stone also said a publishing company is bringing out a book of Powell's sermons, from which the royalties will go to Mrs. James.

Powell's New York court troubles, along with a House committee's accusation of deception in his handling of congressional travel funds, are responsible for the challenge to his House seat that has kept him on the sidelines since the 90th Congress opened.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin of California touched off the controversy by announcing his intention to try to keep Powell, a fellow Democrat, from being seated as long as he was in contempt of court and subject to arrest.

If Powell, a Negro, can pay the judgment and get Mrs. James to withdraw the many other actions she has filed against him in an effort to make him pay, he will have removed a major obstacle to his being seated.

Mayoral Bid Set By Mick At Wellsville

The first declared candidate for nomination in the Wellsville mayoralty contest, Lawrence F. Mick, a Democrat, indicated today that he will file officially shortly.

Mick, who has declared he will run in the May primary, has held no office to date. A craneman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., he resides with his wife and four children at 320 9th St. Mrs. Mick is a cashier at Verna's Pastries on Main St.

The candidate is known primarily for his work as a land developer, having erected three homes near the Glasgow area and owning an additional 33 acres in that section.

His affiliations include Wellsville Masonic Lodge 170, Royal Arch Masonic Chapter 55 and the Steubenville Consistory of Scottish Rite.

He is a member of the Yellow Creek Grange and plans to transfer his membership from the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church to the Riverside Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Mick said today her husband decided to run for office in an effort to "better Wellsville."

William Daugherty, the incumbent Democratic mayor, is expected to seek renomination.

Gordon Quits Post In State Department

Linowitz, Vaughn Considered To Fill Latin Policy Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Sol M. Linowitz and Peace Corps Director Jack Hood Vaughn are being mentioned prominently in speculation on whom President Johnson will select to fill the administration's top Latin American policy post.

Johnson accepted with "real regret" Thursday the resignation of Lincoln Gordon as assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. Gordon will succeed the retiring Milton S. Eisenhower as president of Baltimore's Johns Hopkins University June 30.

Gordon, 53, former Harvard professor and ambassador to Brazil, is the fourth person to hold the Latin American position since Johnson became President a little more than three years ago.

The White House was mum on Gordon's successor, but in diplomatic circles speculation centered on Linowitz, now ambassador to the Organization of American States and U.S. representative on the Inter-American Alliance for Progress Committee, and Vaughn, who once held the State Department post being relinquished by Gordon.

Bill Proposes Liquor Sales In W. Va. Clubs

CHARLESTON (AP) — A bill to legalize sale of liquor in "bona fide private clubs" in West Virginia was introduced in the House of Delegates today and a public hearing on the measure was immediately set for Monday afternoon.

House Finance Chairman Ivor Roiarsky, D - Kanawha, and freshman Del. Fred A. Grewe Jr., R-Ohio, sponsored the bill.

The bill would authorize retail liquor sales to members and their guests by incorporated or unincorporated private clubs "organized and operated for legitimate purposes."

Area Man Bound Over In Glenmoor Robbery

Donald James Hoyt, 23, charged with the armed robbery of a Glenmoor woman Dec. 31, was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine.

Bond was set at $2,500 for Hoyt, of the Echo Dell Trailer Court, who was returned to the County Jail at Lisbon. A man with a rifle took $300 from Mrs. W. K. Hoge at her home and left her bound.

Suicides Bared In China Purge

TOKYO (AP) — A wall newspaper put up in Peking by a unit of Red China's army reported today that purged general staff chief Lo Jui-ching and Vice Premier Po I-po committed suicide.

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital said the "extra" issued by the 235th army detachment also reported Communist party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping — one of the chief targets of Mao Tse-tung's purge — and Yang Hsiu-feng, president of the Supreme People's Court, attempted suicide.

Earlier today one of Mao's mouthpieces, the theoretical journal Red Flag, disclosed that some nominal followers of the party chairman have become alarmed by the turmoil sweeping the Chinese mainland, saying, "You are going too far" and "You are making a mess of it."

But the official Peking People's Daily quoted a Shanghai Red Guard as saying, "We will give the enemy no quarter and will not quit until complete victory."

The army wall paper did not give its source for the suicide reports. There have been several such from Hong Kong recently. Rumors swept Peking in mid-December that Lo had killed himself, and a Red Guard who defected said in Taipei Dec. 27 that Lo jumped off a building but only broke a leg.

The wall paper said Lo, 60, once China's dreaded secret police chief and a member of the ruling party politburo, died after his second suicide attempt "because he was afraid of his crimes."

Loss Of About $500 Seen In Lisbon Store Burglary

LISBON — Someone stole "something less than $500" in bills and change from Hamilton's Drugstore between 10 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. today.

Officer Richard Koffel found the back door of the store slightly ajar while making a routine check this morning. He notified Adam Rudibaugh, the owner.

Rudibaugh said some of the money was in a Farmers National Bank money bag and the rest was in a metal box. The money was concealed in separate locations. The safe had been tampered with, but nothing else appeared to have been disturbed.

Police Chief Leon T. Zahrndt said there was no sign of forced entry and the back door which Koffel found open had the locking bolts removed from the inside.

He said someone apparently hid in the store at closing time or had a key to the front door on W. Lincoln Way. The back door opens onto a parking area.

Rudibaugh said he answered his home telephone on two occasions about 10:30 p.m., but no one replied.

Clyde Christian Files To Seek Council Seat

An employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., Christian is Democratic central committeeman in Precinct D of the First Ward.

Floyd Murray, also a Democrat, is the incumbent First Ward councilman.

Suicides Bared In China Purge

TOKYO (AP) — A wall newspaper put up in Peking by a unit of Red China's army reported today that purged general staff chief Lo Jui-ching and Vice Premier Po I-po committed suicide.

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital said the "extra" issued by the 235th army detachment also reported Communist party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping — one of the chief targets of Mao Tse-tung's purge — and Yang Hsiu-feng, president of the Supreme People's Court, attempted suicide.

Earlier today one of Mao's mouthpieces, the theoretical journal Red Flag, disclosed that some nominal followers of the party chairman have become alarmed by the turmoil sweeping the Chinese mainland, saying, "You are going too far" and "You are making a mess of it."

But the official Peking People's Daily quoted a Shanghai Red Guard as saying, "We will give the enemy no quarter and will not quit until complete victory."

The army wall paper did not give its source for the suicide reports. There have been several such from Hong Kong recently. Rumors swept Peking in mid-December that Lo had killed himself, and a Red Guard who defected said in Taipei Dec. 27 that Lo jumped off a building but only broke a leg.

The wall paper said Lo, 60, once China's dreaded secret police chief and a member of the ruling party politburo, died after his second suicide attempt "because he was afraid of his crimes."

Loss Of About $500 Seen In Lisbon Store Burglary

LISBON — Someone stole "something less than $500" in bills and change from Hamilton's Drugstore between 10 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. today.

Officer Richard Koffel found the back door of the store slightly ajar while making a routine check this morning. He notified Adam Rudibaugh, the owner.

Rudibaugh said some of the money was in a Farmers National Bank money bag and the rest was in a metal box. The money was concealed in separate locations. The safe had been tampered with, but nothing else appeared to have been disturbed.

Police Chief Leon T. Zahrndt said there was no sign of forced entry and the back door which Koffel found open had the locking bolts removed from the inside.

He said someone apparently hid in the store at closing time or had a key to the front door on W. Lincoln Way. The back door opens onto a parking area.

Rudibaugh said he answered his home telephone on two occasions about 10:30 p.m., but no one replied.

Birkhimer appeared for the hearing today, but Roseberry did not. The judge ordered a warrant issued for Roseberry's arrest and said he must post a $250 appearance bond when he is taken into custody. Birkhimer previously had been free on his own recognizance, but the court ordered him to post a $150 bond pending the Feb. 2 hearing.

Air Packs Are Donned To Battle Home Blaze

City firemen had to use air packs to enter a home at 6:29 a. m. today after a mattress caught fire in the basement.

The blaze, at the home of Pauline Hebb of 327 W. 9th St., apparently was caused by a cigarette. Firemen donned air masks to enter the smoke-filled house and then quelled the blaze with booster lines. The building is owned by Barry Berman.

Firemen returned to the station at 7 a. m. They were kept busy Thursday afternoon answering three alarms.

Several pieces of equipment were rolled at 12:28 p. m. when the alarm system went off at the Crook Furniture Co. at 112 E. 5th St.

Firemen found ashes from the incinerator had been placed in a cardboard box. The hot ashes ignited the box and the blaze set off a sprinkler head. The fire was out on arrival.

Firemen turned off the system, installed a new sprinkler head and returned to the station at 1:02 p. m.

At 1 p. m. a large grass fire developed on the hillside below Ruth St. behind the No. 2 station in East End.

Firemen from the East End and Central stations battled the blaze, along with volunteers from the Liverpool Township department.

Fire destroyed a tool shed at the home of Clarence Triplett of 1186 Harker Ave. at 4:35 p. m.

The shed, located at the rear of the property, contained a power mower and some tools. A gasoline storage can was found in the ruins. Trucks from Central and East End responded.

The property is owned by Elmer McDevitt.

Church Plans For Building

A total of $55,000 is now available for the building program, it was announced during the annual congregational meeting of the Mill Creek United Presbyterian Church of Hookstown this week.

Some $20,000 is in the building fund itself and $33,000 in other funds.

A marked increase in giving was reported during the meeting, which was termed "especially significant" since the congregation is the result of a merger of the Mill Creek and Hookstown Presbyterian churches and "quite often there is a decline in giving the first few years following such a merger."

The World Outreach budget for 1967 includes five new objectives, which the increase in giving made it possible to carry out.

Church officers elected are Robert Hobbs, Gregg McElhaney and John Thompson, elders; Lee Eckerd, Mrs. Emma Moore, Mrs. Romaine Shane and Mrs. Elinor Wilson, deacons; Mrs. Joy Galicic, Mrs. Josephine Shane, Mrs. Pauline Swearingen and Mrs. Martha Welch, nominating committee; Charles Hartzell, Paul Leeper, Harry Shane and Roy Snyder, trustees, and Mrs. Susan Johnson, secretary of the corporation.

Banks Issue $25,655 In Food Stamps

LISBON — The six Columbiana County banks participating in the federal food stamp program issued $25,655 in stamps last month.

Donald Hepp, county welfare director, said those in the program bought $15,400 worth with their own money and the federal government furnished bonus or free stamps totaling $10,255.

The program initiated here Dec. 1 is open to all persons on public assistance and to low-income families.

Hepp says low-income persons not on public assistance should make application at the Welfare Department office here to learn if they are eligible.

He said 934 households representing 2,392 persons were certified as eligible to purchase stamps in December. Of these, 456 families, or 1,328 persons, actually bought stamps.

Wilbur Warren, food stamp program administrator, said the response was 51 per cent, which he considered very good for the first month, particularly in view of Christmas spending.

Warren called the food stamp plan a good program — "much better, although a lot more work, than the surplus food program the county had for seven years."

He said families seeking certification to buy food stamps in February should inquire at the welfare office not later than Jan. 25.

A missing person is easier to find 10 years after he has disappeared than he is 10 days after such disappearance, according to a tracing company.

Collections In Fund Drives Listed For Cerebral Palsy

Returns from recent fund drives were announced during the meeting of the Columbiana County affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Tuesday night in the clinic rooms of Mary Patterson Memorial.

He pointed out several other communities have not completed their drives.

A report was heard on the Christmas party sponsored by the parental group attended by 80. The group also was advised of the Christmas activities of the Key Club, which provided gifts for several families.

The affiliate accepted the resignation of Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller as teacher of the nursery school, a position she has held since September 1959. Mrs. Everett Ludwig, a past president of the Junior Women's Club which sponsors the school, was named her successor.

Mrs. John McDonald extended an invitation to the group to attend the open house reception Jan. 29 from 2 until 4:30 p. m. for Rev. and Mrs. Miller, who will leave for Hawaii soon.

The national convention will be held March 9-11 at New Orleans.

Familiar Theme By McNamara

It is jarring to be reminded by Defense Secretary McNamara's latest reorganization move that he is still pursuing his objective of making sense in the Pentagon.

Secretary McNamara has been so absorbed in this government's undeclared war against an unspecified enemy in Southeast Asia lately that his campaign to streamline the Defense Department had been sidetracked.

But with an unprecedented $73 billion budget for national defense about to be announced by the commander-in-chief, nothing could be timelier than a reminder that elimination of obsolete installations and consolidation of other installations is still the fixed goal of the secretary of defense.

Time moves on in its inexorable fashion, but military modernization always hangs back. The United States was still supporting cavalry troops a generation after scouts on horseback had been supplanted by aerial observers and skirmishing had been turned over to armored weapons carriers.

It was still paying for battleships long after aerial bombing had made them useless. The bitter adage that militarists always are ready to fight the next war with the last war's weapons has its origin in their routinized mentality.

Secretary McNamara has had rough going at the hands of generals and admirals. But he has commanded the confidence of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. They needed him.

Neither John F. Kennedy nor Lyndon B. Johnson has had compelling reasons to trust the military mind. Both have valued Secretary McNamara for his durability as a buffer between them and professional militarists.

His latest plan for streamlining the Department of Defense is minor — only about $37 million a year, a tiny drop in the ocean of mounting expenditures for an escalating war in Vietnam that militarists insist should be escalated even more rapidly.

But McNamara hasn't lost sight of his goal of making sense in the Pentagon—not yet.

They Don't 'Wait'

Three more names have been added to the list of those honored for community service.

Recognized at this week's annual "Bosses Night" banquet of the East Liverpool Jaycees were J. D. Thompson, Joseph D. Coons and Jerry Russell.

Dr. Robert I. White, president of Kent State University, offered these thoughts among others as he addressed those at the dinner meeting.

We should pay our respects to those who are ambitious, who refuse to do less . . . .

"Communities cannot wait and let things happen; they and their men must strive, and their leadership be recognized and credited.

"It is such men who achieve the progress in the world."

Those recognized by the Jaycees fit the bill. They, fortunately, are among those who do not wait and just let things happen.

Troupe Morale Builder

Bob Hope's annual Christmas show for servicemen is a morale builder for the home folks too.

Hope and his troupe made the annual excursion for the single purpose of letting the troops know they are not forgotten.

To anyone viewing film clips of the various shows, the response of the servicemen is obvious.

Anticipation of the show with its gals, gags and music gives the men something to look forward to for days. After it is over, they have something to talk about for days.

Anything that can take their minds off war at anytime is most welcome.

The Hope troupe certainly gives its primary objective.

Bu it does more.

In its subtle way, it shows the folks back home that their dearest possessions haven't cracked under the strain.

Our men haven't lost their sense of humor nor their sense of appeciation for a pretty girl.

They are holding up under the burden stacked onto their youthful shoulders.

Regardless of varying opinions about the war, (and who ever said a war is right?) members of the viewing audience had to share a common pride in these men.

The 1966 Christmas show deserves a round of applause from the home folks too.

Memory Of Stars

Two of the brightest stars in the sports galaxy have winked out.

Barney Ross, who symbolized the fighting spirit of the depression era, died in Chicago.

Undefeated in 82 professional bouts, he also triumphed over death-dealing World War II, malaria and the narcotics habit before bowing to unrelenting cancer.

Reece (Goose) Tatum, one of the funniest, most-talented men ever to handle a basketball, died after an apparent heart seizure.

His uncanny antics have been appreciated by audiences around the world for years.

Goose Tatum tickled the funnybone of a lot of people. This provided the paying customer with a needed respite from heavy cares and drab daily routine.

Even for those who could not view his bouts, Barney Ross provided a bright conversational spark during the years noted for a lack of brightness.

Each man used his potential to earn a spot among the greats in sports history.

Their memory will burn brightly in the sports galaxy.

Leaky Dam Of Restraint

What the world needs is a division of little Dutch boys to plug all the holes in the dam of restraint threatening to give way under the rising pressure of blood lust.

That many little Dutch boys don't exist, but the pressure is very real. And no country can claim a monopoly on it or immunity to it.

That sagging dam of reason and restraint is about to provide us with another geography-violence lesson.

We remember lessonso n Laos, Cuba, the Congo, Kuwait, Lebanon and Vietnam.

Now we can get out the atlas and thumb through to the Middle East. This oil-rich region is the new center of world attention. Festering animosity between Israel and Syria could erupt into full-scale war.

Trying to pin down the Middle East situation is difficult, because there are so many warring factions.

IN ADDITION to the present conflict, fighting has occurred in the past few months on three other fronts: in the Yemen, where deposed royalists battled a new republican government; in the British protectorate of South Arabia, where Egyptian-supported terrorists waged a terrorist campaign against British and the ruling tribal leaders; in the wide area of Iraq inhabited by rebellious Kurdish tribesmen.

Adding to the trouble is the ever-present interest of the United States, Russia and Britain in the region's oil resources.

All are supplying arms and equipment that invite hostilities on a large scale.

Egypt has received more than $800 million worth of military equipment from Communist sources alone.

The United States has supplied arms and equipment to Israel, and to the Arab states of Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Israel also buys planes and arms from France and West Germany presumably with U.S. approval.

IF WAR breaks out in the Middle East, there is reason to believe U.S. troops will be fighting there.

Even if the United States is not directly involved, the fact the United Nations has a "peace-keeping" role to fulfill could well lead to the use of U.S. troops in the Middle East.

There is one certainty about the Middle East mess: it will not be the last hole in the dam holding back the cascade of violence that laps relentlessly against it.

The latest opening may be patched up as others have been; but other leaks are sure to spring forth.

Doggone Problems

If this were a column about dogs, I'd write in to get answers to the problems we are having with the canine trio at the Twillery.

Since it is a column about people, all I can do is reveal that people are no match for dogs.

People cannot argue with dogs. They can argue with one another and ring in claims, counter-claims, logic and rationality. But with dogs, everything is open and shut.

The dog does what his canine nature prompts him to do — and that's that.

The latest problem is the eating schedule of the golden-haired visitor from New Hampshire.

When he was left in our care, we were given instructions not to let him get fat. He was a diffident eater, we were told, so it shouldn't be difficult to keep him lithe and trim, the way a Golden Retriever should be.

What he has turned out to be is a glutton. He never is satisfied. The problem is his incessant appetite.

Whenever a hunger pang hits him, he seeks the head of the house, puts his front paws on the frail shoulders of this provider, nuzzles him and says, "Woof!" in his face, like a TV performer singing into the face of a guest star.

There is only one way to get rid of him. He cannot be reasoned with. He will not desist until he has had another dog biscuit.

He is gaining in girth and beam.

Then there is the cold-weather problem of how to persuade the all-breed champion of the Twillery that it is time to step outside and see the trees instead of the forest.

The all-breed champ is short-haired and low to the ground. Frigid wind and snow are the bane of his life; he has no protection against them. The wind gets under his ears and tail, and his belly rubs in the snow.

Therefore, he refuses to go outside. His attitude is not debatable. It is cold and uncomfortable out there, period.

He must be run to ground, so to speak, picked up and ejected. This means his sensitivity is wounded.

He demands his proprietary rights as a bona fide member of the household. He makes it clear that all other members should go outside with him under the same conditions.

He thinks of himself as a special case.

If this were a column about dogs, I'd be asking for answers. There's still another problem:

How do you keep a retriever from bringing back rocks you are trying to throw away? Aren't rocks bad for a dog's teeth?

And still another one:

What makes a dog want to sleep in a shower stall, instead of on the bed in the guest room where the other dogs sleep?

Problems, problems, problems . . .

Return Of Murder, Inc., Feared

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — A flash-fire rebirth of old style Murder, Inc.—labor-industrial syndicated racketeering — is being predicted by doleful federal and state prosecutors.

Victor Riesel

They talk of the swift return of deported Mafia chiefs such as "Mr. A" Joe "Adonis" Doto, now legendary and almost forgotten though he rode high alongside the Murder, Inc. executioners.

These are the millionaire Cosa Nostra men who were traced, trapped and finally exiled, convicted or executed by the state on the basis of wiretapping evidence.

Now all these thousands of cases are under review by the Justice Department — and even if there is the barest mention of a single name and then only for a single moment and the convicted one is alive, the sentence may well be reversed and the prisoner freed or his deportation order lifted.

FURTHERMORE the prosecutors with whom I've talked over the last few weeks see the end of their ability to "get into the crime syndicate inner sanctum or to keep a 24-hour surveillance of organized crime leaders still milking unions, labor welfare and pension funds and private business."

They see new laws coming which will outlaw electronic or wiretap eavesdropping in all but investigation into threats to the national security.

Just the other day in a long conversation with New York Congressman Emanuel Celler, the influential head of the powerful House Judiciary Committee, this was corroborated.

"I will push a bill," said Mr. Celler, dean of the House "which will ban the use of all wiretapping and electronic listening except in cases of national emergency and security involving treason and sabotage. This will ban wiretapping and the electronic stuff even in the fight against organized crime."

THE VENERABLE CONGRESSMAN said his old friend, J. Edgar Hoover would testify "reasonably soon" at committee hearings.

During this column's survey of the use of wiretapping and electronic gadgetry in the struggle with organized crime's executives in charge of the labor front, several intriguing documents cropped up. One was a report from New York's crusading District Attorney Frank Hogan, who has been battling the big time rackets for 25 years, you know, ever since the colorful days which now make TV scripts.

In this document Mr. Hogan reveals that the law never could have cracked Murder Inc.; convicted the late world narcotics chief "Lucky" Luciano, who introduced wholesale murder and muscle into the labor arena; never could have gotten Murder, Inc.'s chief Louis "Lepke" Buchalter to the death chamber; never could have sent up "Lepke's" partner "Gurrah" Shapiro; never could have imprisoned the food market's monopolist and terrorist of labor leaders, Joe "Socks" Lanza; never could have convicted the still free acidity Johnny Dio — without wiretapping.

WIRETAPS, says Mr. Hogan, "have been invaluable in exposing racketeering in certain union welfare funds." On the basis of "intercepted conversations," he adds, his office established a conspiracy involving "the notorious George Scalise, a powerful racketeer who seized unions, and others who milked the fund of more than $300,000. Behind them was "the gun," the late "Little Augie" Pisano, who departed this earth loaded with instant lead.

It wasn't only Mr. Hogan who thus penetrated the inner sanctums. There was the Justice Department during Bob Kennedy's years.

In a report, made not long before he stepped down, the then attorney general said the government knew "that in the last two years at least three carefully planned (Cosa Nostra national) commission meetings had to be called off because the leaders learned that we had uncovered their well-concealed plans and meeting places. We know that because of federal intellibence efforts other commission meetings have been limited to one or two members and have ben held in highly clandestine fashion."

THESE COMMISSION members to which Bob Kennedy referred are the men who direct the racketeers who seize unions and their funds and who are described today by the highest law enforcement agents as "the toughest, roughest, dirtiest, below-the-belt mobsters."

"If we can't wiretap," asked the same source, "how are we going to protect labor and industry? We are in the electronic age. We can't use horses and buggies any more than the FBI could back in the '30s when the racketeers began using short wave radios, fast cars and machine guns.

"We had to match them. If we don't move along with them today, if we can't get into their inner sanctums, we might as well go read Sherlock Holmes and the public better be prepared for the return of those old bloody days—tell that to the labor and business leaders."

Thus the mood is melancholy among those who mourn the passing of the "bug" and warn of the return of the pestilence.

Committee Set In Powell Case

WASHINGTON

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell seems to have a reasonable chance to stay in Congress if he doesn't keep on doing what he did last week and an investigation of him doesn't turn up something too indigestible.

Last week Powell called this Congress "the biggest bunch of elected hypocrites the world has ever known" after his fellow Democrats took his committee chairmanship away and the full House refused to let him take his seat.

This 52-year-old Harlem Negro, a successful politician with 22 years in Congress, is both a preacher and a good - time - charley. He has called Jesus Christ a "religious beatnik" and compared himself to Julius Caesar.

Not all white members of the House have had angelic records. And among Negroes, reacting strongly against the treatment given Powell, some call it racial discrimination.

A Harlem beauty shop operator put it this way: "I don't say he did right, but if it was a white man he'd have gotten away with it."

BECAUSE OF the broad Negro resentment, the House may not go all the way now and throw Powell out. Negroes make up a big part of the voters in some congressional districts, particularly Democratic ones, and a Negro backlash over Powell could ruin a congressman who voted to unseat the Harlemite for good.

In some districts Democrats may have to worry about a white backlash if Powell keeps his seat.

The membership of a nine - man committee—five Democrats, four Republicans — named Thursday to investigate Powell further was good evidence the leaders of both parties in the House want to be careful.

As soon as this new Congress got down to business last week a private Democratic caucus voted to deprive Powell of his plum job, the chairmanship of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee.

Then in the full House Southern Democrats joined forces with Republicans to refuse to let Powell take his seat until a special committee—the nine - man group — could investigate him.

In the end, no matter what the nine-man committee recommends, the full House will have the final say on barring Powell or letting him be seated.

Democrats and Republicans both took their time in picking members for the committee although the reason for the Republicans' foot-dragging probably was simple tardiness. It was a little more painful for the Democrats.

They, it is understood, didn't want any brand new House members on the committee, or any of the leaders, or any known foes of Powell, or anyone who might be ruined politically no matter how he voted on Powell.

NONE OF THE four Republicans has many Negroes in his district. Those four are Reps. Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia, Charles M. Teague of California, Clark MacGregor of Minnesota and Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin.

All of the Democrats — except Rep. Claude D. Pepper of Florida—are also members of the House Judiciary Committee which has a long, liberal record, particularly on civil rights bills.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, with the longest service in the House, where he is chairman of the Judiciary Committee, was named chairman of the nine - man committee.

He, too, has a long liberal record, about 20 per cent of the voters in this district are Negroes. A Southerner had to be picked to serve on this committee but the Southerners on Celler's Judiciary Committee were skipped over.

Instead of any of them, Pepper, one of the few liberal Southern Democrats, was chosen. The other three Democrats on the special committee are Reps. James C. Corman of California, John Conyers Jr. of Michigan and Andrew Jacobs Jr., of Indiana.

Conyers is a Negro from a district with a 60 per cent Negro population; Jacobs comes from a strong Democratic district and is considered safe; Corman, from a Los Angeles district with a lot of Negro voters, has a liberal record and was a strong fighter for open housing.

Familiar Theme By McNamara

It is jarring to be reminded by Defense Secretary McNamara's latest reorganization move that he is still pursuing his objective of making sense in the Pentagon.

Secretary McNamara has been so absorbed in this government's undeclared war against an unspecified enemy in Southeast Asia lately that his campaign to streamline the Defense Department had been sidetracked.

But with an unprecedented $73 billion budget for national defense about to be announced by the commander-in-chief, nothing could be timelier than a reminder that elimination of obsolete installations and consolidation of other installations is still the fixed goal of the secretary of defense.

Time moves on in its inexorable fashion, but military modernization always hangs back. The United States was still supporting cavalry troops a generation after scouts on horseback had been supplanted by aerial observers and skirmishing had been turned over to armored weapons carriers.

It was still paying for battleships long after aerial bombing had made them useless. The bitter adage that militarists always are ready to fight the next war with the last war's weapons has its origin in their routinized mentality.

Secretary McNamara has had rough going at the hands of generals and admirals. But he has commanded the confidence of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. They needed him.

Neither John F. Kennedy nor Lyndon B. Johnson has had compelling reasons to trust the military mind. Both have valued Secretary McNamara for his durability as a buffer between them and professional militarists.

His latest plan for streamlining the Department of Defense is minor — only about $37 million a year, a tiny drop in the ocean of mounting expenditures for an escalating war in Vietnam that militarists insist should be escalated even more rapidly.

But McNamara hasn't lost sight of his goal of making sense in the Pentagon—not yet.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell seems to have a reasonable chance to stay in Congress if he doesn't keep on doing what he did last week and an investigation of him doesn't turn up something too indigestible.

Last week Powell called this Congress "the biggest bunch of elected hypocrites the world has ever known" after his fellow Democrats took his committee chairmanship away and the full House refused to let him take his seat.

This 52-year-old Harlem Negro, a successful politician with 22 years in Congress, is both a preacher and a good - time - charley. He has called Jesus Christ a "religious beatnik" and compared himself to Julius Caesar.

Not all white members of the House have had angelic records. And among Negroes, reacting strongly against the treatment given Powell, some call it racial discrimination.

A Harlem beauty shop operator put it this way: "I don't say he did right, but if it was a white man he'd have gotten away with it."

BECAUSE OF the broad Negro resentment, the House may not go all the way now and throw Powell out. Negroes make up a big part of the voters in some congressional districts, particularly Democratic ones, and a Negro backlash over Powell could ruin a congressman who voted to unseat the Harlemite for good.

In some districts Democrats may have to worry about a white backlash if Powell keeps his seat.

The membership of a nine - man committee—five Democrats, four Republicans — named Thursday to investigate Powell further was good evidence the leaders of both parties in the House want to be careful.

As soon as this new Congress got down to business last week a private Democratic caucus voted to deprive Powell of his plum job, the chairmanship of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee.

Then in the full House Southern Democrats joined forces with Republicans to refuse to let Powell take his seat until a special committee—the nine - man group — could investigate him.

In the end, no matter what the nine-man committee recommends, the full House will have the final say on barring Powell or letting him be seated.

Democrats and Republicans both took their time in picking members for the committee, although the reason for the Republicans' foot-dragging probably was simple tardiness. It was a little more painful for the Democrats.

They, it is understood, didn't want any brand new House members on the committee, or any of the leaders, or any known foes of Powell, or anyone who might be ruined politically no matter how he voted on Powell.

NONE OF THE four Republicans has many Negroes in his district. Those four are Reps. Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia, Charles M. Teague of California, Clark MacGregor of Minnesota and Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin.

All of the Democrats — except Rep. Claude D. Pepper of Florida—are also members of the House Judiciary Committee which has a long, liberal record, particularly on civil rights bills.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, with the longest service in the House, where he is chairman of the Judiciary Committee, was named chairman of the nine - man committee.

He, too, has a long liberal record, about 20 per cent of the voters in this district are Negroes. A Southerner had to be picked to serve on this committee but the Southerners on Celler's Judiciary Committee were skipped over.

Instead of any of them, Pepper, one of the few liberal Southern Democrats, was chosen. The other three Democrats on the special committee are Reps. James C. Corman of California, John Convers Jr. of Michigan and Andrew Jacobs Jr., of Indiana.

Convers is a Negro from a district with a 60 per cent Negro population; Jacobs comes from a strong Democratic district and is considered safe; Corman, from a Los Angeles district with a lot of Negro voters, has a liberal record and was a strong fighter for open housing.

LISBON — Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Columbiana County Common Pleas Court granted probation Thursday to:

Two Salem youths who stole transmissions from two cars;

A Youngstown man who staged a Wellsville holdup with a plastic toy pistol:

A West Township father who shot at the car of youths he claimed harassed him, and

A Chester youth who stole a car in Salem.

All were indicted by the September grand jury and pleaded guilty.

—:—

ALTHOUGH granted probation for five years, Larry L. Lesick, 19, of 856 N. Hawley, and Daniel W. Adams, 18, of 857 N. Ellsworth, were ordered to spend 30 days in the County Jail and to make restitution to the Parker Chevrolet Co. of Salem for damages and expenses resulting from the larcenies.

The indictments said they stole a four - speed transmission May 15 from a 1966 Impala and a four - speed transmission June 1 from a 1966 Chevelle. The transmissions were worth $325 and $280, respectively.

Both youths were ordered to be at home by 11 p.m. except when working or going to or from work. Commenting on the jail sentences afterward, Judge Buzzard said he didn't want to send the youths to the reformatory, but didn't think they should get off completely free. He mentioned the growing frequency of transmission thefts.

Thomas G. Wright Jr., 22, of Youngstown was placed on good behavior for five years. As conditions, he must make restitution of $100 to Sell's Golden Crown Market in Wellsville, where he used the plastic gun to rob Margaret Lynn Gates, a clerk, July 21. Wright also was placed on an 11 p.m. curfew and was ordered to avoid anyone having known criminal tendencies.

JUDGE BUZZARD told Robert Brown, 53, of Minerva R.D. 2 he might have been in court on a homicide. He was charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound. The shot he fired June 2 went through the windshield on the driver's side. A splinter of glass struck the driver, Rodney Chilson, 18, of Minerva R.D., in the eye. Brown's counsel said Chilson and other youths apparently were trying to attract the attention of Brown's 15 - year-old daughter.

Brown's probation is for three years, providing he is of good behavior, abstains from intoxicants and refrains from the possession or use of firearms except where necessary for the protection of the life of himself or his family.

Five - year probation was granted James Spurlock, 18, of 1010 Pan Ave., Chester, arrested May 26 by Salem police minutes after he stole a 1956 hardtop coupe from Zimmerman Auto Sales, 170 N. Lundy St. Spurlock said he had been drinking.

Terms of probation require him to abstain from intoxicants and to make restitution for damages and expenses to the motor dealer.

Can't Be Built Just Anywhere

Prison Location Demands Thought

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Maximum security prisons for 1,800 inmates can't be built just anywhere.

That's why the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction picked 1,700 acres along U.S. Route 23 between Lucasville and Portsmouth, in Scioto County.

S. A. Armstrong, assistant to mental hygiene and correction director Martin A. Janis, listed substantial reasons for selection of the Portsmouth area as the site for the proposed $18 million penal facility.

Close To Cities

A penitentiary to serve southern Ohio would be well situated there, he began. Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati are only a few driving hours away.

Employment surveys, he said, indicate the area could support an operation expected to employ 350.

The Scioto River running along the west edge of the acreage offers a sanitary outlet. The city of Portsmouth agreed to meet the institution's water needs, estimated at 750,000 gallons a day.

Ideal—almost.

Some Second Thoughts

A few second thoughts were filtering in last week.

No minds have been changed on the general location. Armstrong made this clear.

After all, the state spent $250,000 for 700 acres along the Scioto and the Greater Portsmouth Growth Corp. paid $85,000 for the rest of the acreage.

What perplexes state officials right now, Armstrong candidly said, is where on the 1,700 acres should the 50-acre prison be built.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the architect, George Voinovich of Cleveland, have been wrestling with two answers. Neither, Armstrong said, has much appeal.

Would Need Fill

Built the institution on the west side of Route 23, near the Scioto, he explained, and 14 feet of fill must be made to avoid the danger of flooding.

Estimate cost of the fill: $2 million.

Or put the penitentiary on the east side of the highway, he suggested, and the problem becomes one of leveling the rolling ground.

"You need level ground for a prison," he pointed out.

And construction in the hilly area would be compounded, engineers say, by rock 15 feet below the surface.

Blasting Required

Installing water and sewer lines and tunnels required for such a large facility, they note, would be a challenge.

Estimate cost to blast through the rock: $2 million.

"We just aren't certain right now which is the best answer," admitted Armstrong.

Once a decision is made, he disclosed, plans will be completed and by fall bids could be advertised. The project will be completed by 1970 or 1971, officials believe.

Understandably anxious to see the project started are Scioto Countians.

Jobs Offered

Besides offering job opportunities and a $2 million payroll to 350 local residents, the prison is expected to generate a business upsurge for service stations, motels and restaurants in the area and for the valley's service industries.

Another person eager for construction to start is M. C. Koblentz, the state's correction chief for the past 13 years.

To Koblentz, the proposed Lucasville prison is a intregal part of a master plan which he believes "will put Ohio's penal system on a par with any in the country."

Would Decentralize

The plan, as he outlined it, calls for decentralization of the prison system, first by abandonment of the 132-year-old Ohio Penitentiary on the west edge of Columbus' business district.

The antiquated prison's 5,000 inmates, twice the institution's capacity, will be transferred to Lucasville, to another new facility planned for Grafton, in Lorain County, and to a revamped Mansfield Reformatory.

The Mansfield institution, now 73 years old, would be converted to a maximum security prison.

Pattern Changes

Other parts of the changing penal pattern, Koblentz pointed out, are Marion Correctional Institution, completed in 1955; Lebanon Correctional Institution, completed in 1959, and a new psychiatric center at the one-time federal reformatory at Chillicothe which has been acquired by the state.

Decentralization, according to Koblentz, will give the system flexibility, permitting greater opportunity for rehabilitation.

In fact, 2,000 of 10,700 adults in Ohio's prisons currently are enrolled in formal academic programs.

Search Ends In Car Chase

Because the owner of a car stolen from Beaver Falls Wednesday has indicated to police he will file no charges of auto theft, Toronto authorities who recovered the vehicle said they are discontinuing their attempts to locate the driver.

The car, occupied by two men, was first reported in Wellsville after the driver had obtained gasoline from a service station and sped away without paying.

Wellsville officer Max Zahrndt followed the car into Toronto, where police took up the chase, but lost the driver after he fled into some woods.

A passenger in the car, Eugene Curtis Wade, was held by police in Toronto overnight. Wade, a deaf mute, was reported to have reimbrused James Thrasher, owner of Jim's Service Station on 17th St. in Wellsville, the $3.60 owed him.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The St. Lawrence Waterway, jointly built and operated by the United States and Canada, is the largest inland navigation system in North America. Opened in 1959, the system extends 2,342 miles from the Atlantic Ocean to the American Midwest. The numerous channels and locks maintain a minimum depth of 27 feet and permit ocean carriers to penetrate as far as Duluth, Minn.

Auto Upsets On Route 68

A Midland man and a Beaver woman escaped serious injury when their cars collided on Route 68 just west of Midland Thursday afternoon about 4:50, Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich reported.

Margaret Williams of Beaver was attempting to pass a 1964 ports coupe operated by John Szatkiewicz of 127 Woodlane, Midland, when the two cars collided and his car went off the roadway and overturned.

Both drivers suffered minor injuries, but Szatkiewicz told Zlatovich he was wearing a seat belt, which he said prevented him from being seriously hurt. His car was a total loss.

Midland police directed traffic and gave assistance until Zlatovich arrived.

Supply Distribution Planned For Southern Local's Voting

Supplies will be distributed to presiding judges Saturday from 9 to 11 a. m. at the County Election Board's East Liverpool office for a special election Tuesday in the Southern Local School District on a 4½ - mill levy that was rejected twice in 1966.

The district is comprised of 15 precincts — 13 in Columbiana County, the Brush Creek Precinct of Jefferson County and a very small segment of Fox Township in Carroll County. The Fox Township electors will cast their votes in Salineville's Precinct D.

The polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. The Election Board expects to have returns available early Tuesday night. The results will be telephoned to the board as soon as the ballots are tabulated.

The board emphasized its instructions that all the presiding judges will call at the East Liverpool office — on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall — to pick up the precinct supplies tomorrow. At all other elections, most of the Southern Local officials pick up their supplies at the board's office in the Courthouse at Lisbon, but that procedure will not be followed for the special election, it was pointed out.

Following the so-called "economy plan," the board will staff each polling place with four judges and clerks, rather than the usual six. The reduction in precinct personnel is permitted by state law for special elections. The change will result in a saving to the taxpayers of the school district, which will be billed for most of the expenses of the special election.

School authorities have announced the levy would provide $40,000 annually for building repairs and salary adjustments.

The levy was turned down last at the Nov. 8 general election. It polled 532 in favor and 889 in opposition. In the May 1966 primaries, 297 voted in favor of the levy, with 635 opposed.

At a meeting a few weeks ago, the Board of Education set a Feb. 7 deadline for closing of three schools in the district if the levy is defeated again.

The board said it will be forced to close the Wayne, Franklin and No. 16 buildings if the measure is rejected again. The board said the action would leave the Highlandtown elementary school, the high school and part of the Salineville building still in operating condition.

Appeal Rejected

LISBON — Frederick C. Minamyer, 54, of 890 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, convicted by a Common Pleas Court jury in 1964 on a charge of sodomy, lost his appeal to the Seventh District Court of Appeals Thursday. The tribunal affirmed the judgment of the trial court. Minamyer has not been sentenced.

Kiwanians Given Reports On 1966, 'Day' Proclaimed

A report on the 1966 activities of the Kiwanis Club was presented by James Walker, past president, during the meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Walker reviewed the various projects of the 58-member group, including support of the PONY League, a proposed park development, assisting the Key Club, providing an operation, aiding in the planting of 400 trees, manning Salvation Army kettles at Christmas and a Yule party for needy children.

Walker said the club raised money through two pancake dinners, a rummage sale, hole-in-one contest, popcorn and gumball sales and table collections at luncheons.

He expressed thanks to his officers and committees and to the Key Club which assisted the club on many occasions.

He also reported on programs, interclub meetings, public relations and other activities.

Kiwanis International will observe its 52nd anniversary Saturday. Mayor George Willshaw has proclaimed Jan. 21 "Kiwanis Anniversary Day" and called attention to the efforts of some 275,000 men in 5,400 clubs in helping improve their communities.

Roy Cooper, president, was in charge.

Close To Cities

A penitentiary to serve southern Ohio would be well situated there, he began. Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati are only a few driving hours away.

Employment surveys, he said, indicate the area could support an operation expected to employ 350.

The Scioto River running along the west edge of the acreage offers a sanitary outlet. The city of Portsmouth agreed to meet the institution's water needs, estimated at 750,000 gallons a day.

Ideal—almost.

Some Second Thoughts

A few second thoughts were filtering in last week.

No minds have been changed on the general location. Armstrong made this clear.

After all, the state spent $250,000 for 700 acres along the Scioto and the Greater Portsmouth Growth Corp. paid $85,000 for the rest of the acreage.

What perplexes state officials right now, Armstrong candidly said, is where on the 1,700 acres should the 50-acre prison be built.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the architect, George Voinovich of Cleveland, have been wrestling with two answers. Neither, Armstrong said, has much appeal.

Would Need Fill

Built the institution on the west side of Route 23, near the Scioto, he explained, and 14 feet of fill must be made to avoid the danger of flooding.

Estimate cost of the fill: $2 million.

Or put the penitentiary on the east side of the highway, he suggested, and the problem becomes one of leveling the rolling ground.

"You need level ground for a prison," he pointed out.

And construction in the hilly area would be compounded, engineers say, by rock 15 feet below the surface.

Blasting Required

Installing water and sewer lines and tunnels required for such a large facility, they note, would be a challenge.

Estimate cost to blast through the rock: $2 million.

"We just aren't certain right now which is the best answer," admitted Armstrong.

Once a decision is made, he disclosed, plans will be completed and by fall bids could be advertised. The project will be completed by 1970 or 1971, officials believe.

Understandably anxious to see the project started are Scioto Countians.

Jobs Offered

Besides offering job opportunities and a $2 million payroll to 350 local residents, the prison is expected to generate a business upsurge for service stations, motels and restaurants in the area and for the valley's service industries.

Another person eager for construction to start is M. C. Koblentz, the state's correction chief for the past 13 years.

To Koblentz, the proposed Lucasville prison is a intregal part of a master plan which he believes "will put Ohio's penal system on a par with any in the country."

Would Decentralize

The plan, as he outlined it, calls for decentralization of the prison system, first by abandonment of the 132-year-old Ohio Penitentiary on the west edge of Columbus' business district.

The antiquated prison's 5,000 inmates, twice the institution's capacity, will be transferred to Lucasville, to another new facility planned for Grafton, in Lorain County, and to a revamped Mansfield Reformatory.

The Mansfield institution, now 73 years old, would be converted to a maximum security prison.

Pattern Changes

Other parts of the changing penal pattern, Koblentz pointed out, are Marion Correctional Institution, completed in 1955; Lebanon Correctional Institution, completed in 1959, and a new psychiatric center at the one-time federal reformatory at Chillicothe which has been acquired by the state.

Decentralization, according to Koblentz, will give the system flexibility, permitting greater opportunity for rehabilitation.

In fact, 2,000 of 10,700 adults in Ohio's prisons currently are enrolled in formal academic programs.

Supply Distribution Planned For Southern Local's Voting

Supplies will be distributed to presiding judges Saturday from 9 to 11 a. m. at the County Election Board's East Liverpool office for a special election Tuesday in the Southern Local School District on a 4½ - mill levy that was rejected twice in 1966.

The district is comprised of 15 precincts — 13 in Columbiana County, the Brush Creek Precinct of Jefferson County and a very small segment of Fox Township in Carroll County. The Fox Township electors will cast their votes in Salineville's Precinct D.

The polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. The Election Board expects to have returns available early Tuesday night. The results will be telephoned to the board as soon as the ballots are tabulated.

The board emphasized its instructions that all the presiding judges will call at the East Liverpool office — on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall — to pick up the precinct supplies tomorrow. At all other elections, most of the Southern Local officials pick up their supplies at the board's office in the Courthouse at Lisbon, but that procedure will not be followed for the special election, it was pointed out.

Following the so-called "economy plan," the board will staff each polling place with four judges and clerks, rather than the usual six. The reduction in precinct personnel is permitted by state law for special elections. The change will result in a saving to the taxpayers of the school district, which will be billed for most of the expenses of the special election.

School authorities have announced the levy would provide $40,000 annually for building repairs and salary adjustments.

The levy was turned down last at the Nov. 8 general election. It polled 532 in favor and 889 in opposition. In the May 1966 primaries, 297 voted in favor of the levy, with 635 opposed.

At a meeting a few weeks ago, the Board of Education set a Feb. 7 deadline for closing of three schools in the district if the levy is defeated again.

The board said it will be forced to close the Wayne, Franklin and No. 16 buildings if the measure is rejected again. The board said the action would leave the Highlandtown elementary school, the high school and part of the Salineville building still in operating condition.

Appeal Rejected

LISBON — Frederick C. Minamyer, 54, of 890 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, convicted by a Common Pleas Court jury in 1964 on a charge of sodomy, lost his appeal to the Seventh District Court of Appeals Thursday. The tribunal affirmed the judgment of the trial court. Minamyer has not been sentenced.

Search Ends In Car Chase

Because the owner of a car stolen from Beaver Falls Wednesday has indicated to police he will file no charges of auto theft, Toronto authorities who recovered the vehicle said they are discontinuing their attempts to locate the driver.

The car, occupied by two men, was first reported in Wellsville after the driver had obtained gasoline from a service station and sped away without paying.

Wellsville officer Max Zahrndt followed the car into Toronto, where police took up the chase, but lost the driver after he fled into some woods.

A passenger in the car, Eugene Curtis Wade, was held by police in Toronto overnight. Wade, a deaf mute, was reported to have reimbrused James Thrasher, owner of Jim's Service Station on 17th St. in Wellsville, the $3.60 owed him.

Kiwanians Given Reports On 1966, 'Day' Proclaimed

A report on the 1966 activities of the Kiwanis Club was presented by James Walker, past president, during the meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Walker reviewed the various projects of the 58-member group, including support of the PONY League, a proposed park development, assisting the Key Club, providing an operation, aiding in the planting of 400 trees, manning Salvation Army kettles at Christmas and a Yule party for needy children.

Walker said the club raised money through two pancake dinners, a rummage sale, hole-in-one contest, popcorn and gumball sales and table collections at luncheons.

He expressed thanks to his officers and committees and to the Key Club which assisted the club on many occasions.

He also reported on programs, interclub meetings, public relations and other activities.

Kiwanis International will observe its 52nd anniversary Saturday. Mayor George Willshaw has proclaimed Jan. 21 "Kiwanis Anniversary Day" and called attention to the efforts of some 275,000 men in 5,400 clubs in helping improve their communities.

Roy Cooper, president, was in charge.

Auto Upsets On Route 68

A Midland man and a Beaver woman escaped serious injury when their cars collided on Route 68 just west of Midland Thursday afternoon about 4:50, Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich reported.

Margaret Williams of Beaver was attempting to pass a 1964 ports coupe operated by John Szatkiewicz of 127 Woodlane, Midland, when the two cars collided and his car went off the roadway and overturned.

Both drivers suffered minor injuries, but Szatkiewicz told Zlatovich he was wearing a seat belt, which he said prevented him from being seriously hurt. His car was a total loss.

Midland police directed traffic and gave assistance until Zlatovich arrived.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a Chicago cab driver and, believe me, hacking in Chicago is a tough way to make a buck. The worst part of the job isn't the driving, it's the people who get into the cab and right away they want to tell you their troubles.

Yesterday I had a lady who was going to the airport. She started to tell me a long story about her husband running around with a girl who works in his office. She got so worked up that she hit me on the back with her purse and hollered, "How do you like that for an old goat with grandchildren?"

Finally I said, "Look, Mrs., why don't you write to Ann Landers and let me drive this cab?"

She yelled, "I did write to Ann Landers and she told me I need to talk to somebody about my problem so I'm talking to you."

Now I know you don't mean for people to tell their troubles to cab drivers. What you mean is they should talk to ministers or marriage counselors and like that.

So please, Ann Landers, make it clear to the folks who write you. Much obliged. — BIG RED.

-:-

Dear Red: People who tell their troubles to cab drivers don't want advice. They just want somebody to listen.

A cab driver can be the ideal person to unload on because he's a stranger, he couldn't care less about who is to blame and the passenger probably never will see him again. So, be a good egg and listen.

Mink Fan

Dear Ann: My husband and I will be celebrating our 20th wedding anniversary next month. The problem is that he wants to buy me a mink coat for my anniversary and I don't want one. I'm going through the change and what I need most of the time is a fan, not a fur coat.

My husband says I'm being selfish. He claims that I'm depriving him of one of the greatest pleasures a man can have — presenting his wife with something special.

If you say he is right, I will consider it. May I hear from you please? — SHAKER HEIGHTS.

-:-

Dear Shaker Heights: I urge you to reconsider. Forget about yourself. Make the sacrifice. Put your husband's wishes first. "Think mink." You'll be glad you let him talk you into it.

Picture Pique

Dear Ann: What do you think about a grown man who has a faithful wife (not beautiful, just average looking) and two adorable children, yet the only picture he carries in his billfold is one of his mother and father?

Some men have pictures of the wife and children on their desks, but we don't even rate a billfold. This may sound like a petty complaint but it hurt me deeply when I opened my husband's shirt drawer yesterday and discovered the new pictures I had made up for the wallet. This morning I checked and found that he still is carrying the old picture of his parents.

I would like your opinion. — LEFT OUT OF THE PICTURE.

Dear Left Out: I'll bet your husband has been carrying that old picture of his parents for many years — and I hope you'll remain silent and let him do it as long as he wants to.

The fact that he doesn't carry your picture doesn't mean he cares less for you and the children. It simply means he feels guilty about making the change and he just can't bring himself to do it.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you have any of those nice old leather pocketbooks you have put away because the white stitching in them has become unstitched and you felt you could practically buy a new one for the money it would cost to get it sewed up at the shoe repair shop?

Well, I have the perfect answer.

For those with white threads, all you have to do when it comes unstitched is just sew it up with dental floss.

It holds well and looks neat. —SEVENTH GRADER.

-:-

You may be in the seventh grade, but we have just given you a diploma.

And another thing is that this also works on those beautiful leather belts that teenagers wear today.

Another trick I found after sewing up my teen-age daughter's belt:

You can take a brown felt marking pen and dye that dental floss with two or three coatings. This is just in case your stitching is brown.

It's real easy to sew with a heavy needle since the hole has already been punched through the leather.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I bake jelly-filled cookies, I dip a thimble in flour, and mash a hole in the center of the cookie!

I fill this tiny hole with jelly, sprinkle the top with a little sugar and bake.

The thimble makes just a little neater job than your thumb. (Of course, I boil it first.)

I'm 81 years old and do my own housework, and baking is my hobby.

MRS. W. BENZIER.

DEAR HELOISE: I never could get the pinch-pleats at the top of my drapes to hold their shape until I sprayed them with spray starch and clipped them in with clip-type clothespins while they are still damp and hanging on the line.

After they are dry, I remove the pins and have nice, sharp pleats.

This works on all fabrics that I have tried so far.

MRS. ROBERT S. RISK.

DEAR HELOISE: My baby never eats all of his baby junior food at one meal, and there are a few spoonfuls left. He also hates mashed potatoes.

I solved both problems by fixing instant mashed potatoes according to directions, and adding the leftover baby food with a little butter and salt while heating it.

Now he gobbles it up.

This is very inexpensive as well as nourshing.

MRS. MELVIN PERKINS.

-:-

This mother states that this will not work with fruit desserts in the junior foods but she uses the fruits in baby's pudding and custards to add flavor to them.

Now, wasn't that sweet of her to take the time to write? Bless all mothers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Covering a borrowed book with aluminum foil to protect it is fine but why not use plastic wrap instead?

It will make a more durable cover which you can also see through and when you return the book, the owner will know how very much you appreciated the use of the book.

E. CLARINDA.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: My grandson received two sets of blocks in string bags.

I watched him become frustrated trying to hold the string bag open and put the blocks in.

I buy potato chips in the two-and-one-half-pound box. So, I took the empty box and put a rope handle on it, and now he puts his blocks away in no time.

GRANDMOTHER.

Must See To Believe . . .

Destined to become one of the truly all-time greats in the long history of St. Francis College basketball is All-American candidate Norman Vanlier of Midland, according to the publicity corps at the Loretto, Pa. school.

Many words have already been used to describe Norm's ability on the collegiate cage court with only half the current 1966-67 season gone, the very first in varsity play for the cagy 19-year-old 6-1 Frankie guard. However, words really do not fully tell of his hardwood exploits — he's the kind of type of basketball player you must see in action to really appreciate.

★ ★ ★

THE SOPHOMORE guard who is the Frankie team quarterback, is the team's playmaker. He possesses very exceptional ball handling and defensive skill. And Norm is a very good shot and a better-than-average rebounder which stacks him up as an outstanding all around basketball player — the kind every coach dreams about.

Add to this the fact that he has good leadership qualities and plays every game with extra-effort desire, and you have what coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and basketball enthusiasts in general feel is definitely All - American qualities through and through.

★ ★ ★

VANLIER came to St. Francis in the Fall of 1965 following his graduation at Midland High School, where he was one of the much-talked-about players who made up the Midland team that walked off with the PIAA Class A State basketball championship of 1964-65. In his freshman year at the Loretto college he was a mainstay on the Frosh squad that posted a 12-2 record. An Education major he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vanlier of Midland, Pa. He received his high school basketball training under well-known and very successful Coach Hank Kuzma.

Norm's amazing ability on the basketball floor has won him individual acclaim in each and every one of the initial 11 games played by St. Francis this season. With an 8-3 record in that period of time Vanlier has received applause in every contest, even in the defeats. His 11-game point production totals 186, which is a 16.9 average, to lead the Frankie team.

In rebounding in 11 battles Norm has come up with 99, or a 9.0 average. Perhaps his greatest ability as a player, however is in assists, where Norm really excells. In the first 11 tilts of this season he has produced 101 assists to teammates who made baskets.

Draws Standing Ovation . . .

AS ST. FRANCIS won the Albright College Holiday Tournament Vanlier, with 27 points in two games, was named to the All-Tourney team. Last Dec. 10 in the rugged Penn Palestra in Philadelphia, Norm scored 27 points to lead his Frankie team as it went down to defeat to top-rated St. Joseph's, 83-71. Before 7,500 screaming fans he sparked his team to a 39-39 half-time tie even though he was handicapped with three personal fouls, two of which were offensive. His determined play came to an end with 2:49 left to play when he drew his fifth foul.

It isn't often a partisan crowd in the Palestra gives the opposition an ovation, but when Vanlier walked off the floor that night the fans stood and gave him a deserving ovation that lasted for nearly three minutes. Besides his 27 points he was credited with eight assists along with some key rebounds. And he again displayed his uncanny ability to handle a basketball.

★ ★ ★

VANLIER is something to behold when it comes to playing basketball. And he's only a sophomore with two and a half seasons remaining in his collegiate career. His top individual point effort came in the Frankies 84-74 loss to LaSalle, also in a game at the Palestra Jan. 7. In this game he pumped in 30 points, hitting on 8-for-8 in the first half playing most of the second half with four personal fouls, three of them called as offensive miscues.

His ability at ball handling again won outward acclaim of the capacity attendance at the Palestra that night. And he played this game with a severe laceration to his arm which would normally keep most players out of action completely.

★ ★ ★

ST. FRANCIS played three contests at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena and in the two victories — 81-63 Duquesne and 67-54 over William and Mary — it was Vanlier who sparked the triumphs. He also has been the opponents "threat" in the Frankie wins over Grove City, Texas Southern, Waynesburg and Marshall.

Vanlier is a hard man to guard. He can dribble and pass a basketball past the best of them before the opponent knows what's happening. And when the opposition double or triple teams him, Norm passes off and figures in important assists that pay off in baskets by his teammates.

His combination of basketball skills make him a real threat to any basketball team. And this comes minus the varsity experience of many the foes he meets on the floor. Vanlier is only a sophomore and surely has a great basketball future ahead of him at St. Francis college.

G. Washington Forced To Drop Grid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The board of trustees at George Washington University voted to end the school's inter - collegiate football program after 58 years of varsity competition.

The 36 trustees, during an all-day meeting in which the athletic program was re-evaluated, also voted to set aside $250,000 annually beginning during the 1967-68 school year to aid in financing a new recreation - physical education building.

They also called for an expanded intramural program and a broadening of other varsity sports.

The announcement at a news conference by Warren Gould, vice president for resources at the University was made after "reviewing the possible courses of action and considering the limited resources with which the University must meet its commitments.

Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott, University president, recommended that the school drop football immediately because it was costing approximately $250,000 a year to be played by the downtown Washington school.

Princeton Rated Most Surprising

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Princeton Tigers are the most surprising team in college basketball so far this season, the Kentucky Wildcats the flop and the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers perhaps the most overlooked.

These observations were prompted today as the season entered the midyear exams doldrums that reduce major games to a minimum.

Drake crushed Iowa State 70-57 and Clemson routed Furman 82-67 in the leading games of Thursday night's slim program. All the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll were idle.

Led by 19 points from 6-foot-8 Gary Lovemark, Drake built a 36-18 lead at Des Moines as the Bulldogs turned the tables on the Cyclones for a defeat last month at Ames.

Jim Sutherland pumped in 29 points to pace Clemson in its home court triumph over Furman. In other games, the Miami, Fla., Hurricanes whipped Florida Southern 102-72 and the AAU Phillips Oilers humbled Arizona 101-74.

Princeton did not receive a vote in the preseason AP poll, but the Ivy Leaguers currently are ranked fifth nationally with a 13-1 record. The Nassau Tigers, led by soph Christ Thomforde and veterans John Haarlow and Gary Walters, have been beaten only by second-ranked Louisville.

The collapse of Kentucky is unprecedented in the 37-year coaching career of Adolph Rupp. The Wildcats, who won 27 of 28 games last season before losing to Texas Western in the 1966 NCAA-tourney championship final, have suffered seven defeats in 12 starts. They were ranked third to UCLA and Texas Western in the preseason poll, but no longer are in the AP Top Ten.

Western Kentucky, the Ohio Conference champs, won 25 of 28 games last season and were ranked eighth in the preseason poll. The Hilltoppers lost their opening game 76-70 to Vanderbilt, but since have compiled a 13-ame winning streak. Despite their 13-1 mark they have not been in the Top Ten since the opening weeks of the campaign.

Westgate Wins 2nd Game Over East Junior, 47-34

Westgate scored its second victory of the season over city rival East Junior by claiming a 47-34 verdict Thursday at Memorial Auditorium.

The contest ended in an 18-18 tie after a nip and tuck first half but Westgate gradually pulled in front in the third period and took a 34-26 lead into the final quarter.

Jack Melvin's 11 points and 10 by Joe March paced the Wildcats who claimed their seventh victory while showing four defeats.

Jim Parsons of East finished as the game's leading scorer with 19 points.

Westgate plays Tuesday afternoon at home.

WESTGATE—47
Kemple 2-4-8; A. Smith 1-3-5; Melvin 5-1-11; M. Smith 3-0-6; March 4-2-10; McVay 2-0-4; Emmerling 1-0-2; Haney 0-1-1. Totals 18-11-47.
EAST JUNIOR—34

High-Scoring Game Seen In AFL ALL-Star Battle

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Possibly the last American Football League All Star Game goes on national television Saturday from the Oakland Coliseum with a high-scoring outcome the prospect between the East and West squads.

Players fro m both the AFL and the National Football League — which plays its All Star Game Sunday in Los Angeles—have proposed a super all star clash between players from the merged leagues. Present television commitments probably would be the biggest obstacle to such a game next season.

The AFL contest was supposed to have been played last week to showcase the new Oakland Coliseum. But the merger produced the Super Bowl and some of the All Star allure was rubbed off in the 35-10 defeat of Kansas City by Green Bay last Sunday.

That could be shown at 1:30 p.m. (PST) kickoff in the 53,000 seat Coliseum. The AFL is hoping for 30,000 fans but wouldn't be shocked if up to 6,000 fewer appeared despite a 100-mile television blackout.

Television ratings should prove interesting for this absolutely, guaranteed last weekend of the football season. Has the saturation point been reached by at-home viewers?

Whoever chooses to watch can expect to see a high-scoring show as the East tries to win its first All Star game. They lost the first four before players from seven teams thrashed Buffalo 30-19 last year in an altered format at Houston.

West coach John Rauch of Oakland, in his first All Star assignment, and East coach Mike Holovak of Boston, in his second, each figure four touchdowns are needed to win. And they figure everyone will be trying because the winners get $1,000 each and the losers $600.

The West will feature passing. Quarterback Len Dawson from the AFL champion Kansas City Chiefs has a receivers Lance Alworth of San Diego, Art Powell of Oakland, Bob Scarpitto of Denver and Otis Taylor of Kansas City. Oakland's Tom Flores is the backup quarterback.

Buffalo's Jack Kemp will quarterback the East offense with help from Boston's Babe Parilli. Although Boston fullback Jim Nance, the AFL's most valuable player, had to miss the game because of Army duty, the East still plans to run more than the West.

Wray Carlton of Buffalo will start in place of Nance and will be spelled by Matt Snell of New York.

Carr Grabs Early Lead, Jack 1 Back In Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Spyglass Hill's budding reputation as a super monster among golf courses took a beating just as soon as the big name pros began attacking in Bing Crosby's $104,500 tournament.

Four of the leading seven going into today's second round had fired over Spyglass, the course built along the beach and through the forest in the area where the Treasure Island novel was written.

Joe Carr, a 28-year-old from Worcester, Mass., who won only $50 in official money last year grabbed the lead with a 68 at Cypress Point and big Jack Nicklaus carded a 69 at Pebble Beach. Al Geiberger, the PGA tournament champ, had a 70 there.

Also at 70, two under par, were four who shot at Spyglass — New Zealand's southpaw Bob Charles, Jack Burke Jr., Jerry Pittman, and little known Jim Colbert of Kansas City, Kan.

"It's one of the really good courses already," commented Charles, but others weren't so generous in descriptions of the new 6,972-yard layout where holes have such nicknames as Billy Bones and Long John Silver.

Defending champion Don Massengale walked the plank at Spyglass with an 80 while Miller Barber scribbled himself out of what might have been a treasure. After shooting a 72, he incorrectly inscribed his nine-hole total of 34 in the box where he should have put his 4 for the 18th.

He had to accept a 34 for the single hole, 64 for the nine and 102 for the 18.

A year ago in the Sunday finals at Pebble, Geiberger shot a 76 at Pebble and finished two strokes behind Massengale for top money.

Under Crosby's plan, each pro-amateur team plays each of the three courses and then the low 40 teams and pros in contention shoot in Sunday's final. A $16,000 prize awaits the low scoring pro and the one on the winning team gets $2,700.

Leading the pro-am sector, where the handicaps of the amateurs count in the scoring were three teams — Dick Crawford and Wheeler Farish, Jack Rule and Ed Lowery and Dale Douglass and Joe Dyer, tied at 62.

Under 3:50 Mile Ryun's New Goal

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—"I don't want this to sound too cocky," said Jim Ryun after revealing his personal goal for the coming outdoor season is the world's first sub-3:50 mile.

The modest, introspective Kansas sophomore holds the world mile record of 3:51.3, set last June at Berkeley, Calif. Even before this record race, Ryun's fans and many coaches were talking in terms of a mile in the 3:40s for the former Wichita, Kan., paper boy.

"I hope people understand," said the 19-year-old Ryun. "I feel a little stupid every time someone comes up to me and I just say 'I just try to keep improving.' They ask 'How much?' and it's obvious that if it's very much, it's under 3:50.

"If I can just word it right, I don't see why I shouldn't say what everyone knows . . . I hope it's not egotistic."

He opens the indoor season Saturday night in the Los Angeles Invitational.

Ryun said his best mile of last year should have come June 4 in the Compton Relays at Los Angeles because his workouts produced outstanding time, he was in peak form and confident.

But Ryun never heard his quarter times in that race. He didn't know the first quarter was slow. His time was 3:53.7, one-tenth second off the world mark.

"I felt so good afterward," he said, "I think I could have run under 3:50 then."

The Los Angeles meet and the Portland Invitational Jan. 28 will be Ryun's only open races of the indoor season. Most of the time, his prime objective will be scoring as many points as he can for Kansas.

Beaver Local's Freshman Team Scores 7th Win

Beaver Local's freshman team scored a 28-19 victory over visiting Leetonia Thursday to push its record to 7-5 for the season.

Trailing 11-10 at halftime, the young Beavers moved in front 15-12 after three periods. Some clutch foul shooting by Dave Bentz kept the Beavers on top in the final period as he made six foul shots.

Harper Farish with eight points led the Beavers while Cornbau dropped in nine for Leetonia.

Beaver Local was to play today at Columbiana.

Elroy Face Signs '67 Pirate Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Elroy Face, Pittsburgh Pirate relief pitcher and a 13-year major league veteran, has signed his 1967 contract.

Face, 38, posted a 6-6 record last year, was credited with 16 saves and compiled a 2.70 earned run average. He appeared in 54 games.

In 1959, Face set a record for highest winning percentage in the majors with an 18-1 mark. It was his best year.

The Pirates, who announced the signing Thursday, did not disclose contract terms.

Dog Racing Bill Introduced In West Virginia Legislature

CHARLESTON (AP) — A dog racing bill was off and running again in the West Virginia Legislature today — a track proven to none too speedy for this "legislative dog" in the past.

Senate Majority Leader William A. Moreland, D-Monongalia introduced the bill to permit pari-mutuel betting at dog race tracks after July 1, 1968.

A similar bill introduced in the 1965 session failed to get around the first turn, with a deep grave dug in the Senate Finance Committee.

Moreland's bill levies stiff taxes to be paid by operators of the tracks to enrichen state coffers.

Construction on dog race tracks would be authorized to begin as soon as the bill is passed, but a provision in the measure would prevent pari-mutuel betting until after the start of the 1968 fiscal year.

Dog racing met with strong protests in the 1965 session from persons objecting to opening up the state to more gambling.

Church groups said the state did not need that kind of money.

Moreland's bill would put control of the dog racing tracks under the West Virginia Racing Commission, which now oversees the state's horse racing tracks in the Northern and Eastern panhandles.

Operators of dog racing tracks of one mile or more would pay $500 per day to the state and those tracks of less than one mile would pay $250 per day.

In addtioin, heavy daily taxes would be levied against the daily pari-mutuel pool.

A 4 per cent tax would be levied against the first $50,000. 5 per cent on the second $50,000 or less, and 6 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool in excess of $100,000.

The bill also would place strict requirements on persons who would be eligible to get a license to operate the tracks.

Present law prohibits giving a license to any person representing a firm whose officers singly or collectively have been convicted of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude 10 years prior to the date of the license application.

Moreland's bill would stiffen this provision to make a conviction of such a charge grounds for disqualification for a license, regardless of when the conviction occurred.

The bill also would eliminate the existing local option provision contained in the horse racing law. Neither dog racing nor horse racing would be subject to local option election.

Supporters of the bill two years ago maintained it would be an effective way for the state to add needed revenue.

76ers Roll Over Bulls In Game At Pittsburgh

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia 76ers not only dominate the East, but they're also winning the West.

The 76ers, leaders in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, trounced the Chicago Bulls 127-102 at Pittsburgh Thursday night for their 26th straight victory over Western Division teams.

It was the 76ers' seventh in their latest winning streak and ran their record to 44-4.

In other games, San Francisco walloped New York 123-102 and Baltimore edged Cincinnati 122-118 in a doubleheader at Baltimore.

Chicago's Don Kojis and Erwin Mueller scored a total of 19 points in the first quarter to give Chicago a 27-27 tie with the 76ers, but Philadelphia broke the game open with a 39-point spree in the second period for a 66-48 halftime lead.

The 76ers Wilt Chamberlain led all scorers with 27 points. Kojis topped Chicago with 17.

Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer who was held to just 13 points in the San Francisco's loss to Chicago Wednesday night, got only 22, far below his average, against New York. Tom Meschery, however, took up the slack with 28. Dick Barnett led the Knicks with 21.

Barry and Tom Van Arsdale got into a pushing match in the first period and it developed into a fist fight in which Barry was floored before the officials broke it up. Both players stayed in the game.

Baltimore broke up a tight game with 11 straight last-quarter points to beat Cincinnati. Gus Johnson, who finished with 19 points, started the spurt with a field goal, and Don Ohl put Baltimore ahead to stay at 100-99 with a basket with 9:20 left.

The Philadelphia 76ers not only dominate the East, but they're also winning the West.

The 76ers, leaders in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, trounced the Chicago Bulls 127-102 at Pittsburgh Thursday night for their 26th straight victory over Western Division teams.

It was the 76ers' seventh in their latest winning streak and ran their record to 44-4.

In other games, San Francisco walloped New York 123-102 and Baltimore edged Cincinnati 122-118 in a doubleheader at Baltimore.

Chicago's Don Kojis and Erwin Mueller scored a total of 19 points in the first quarter to give Chicago a 27-27 tie with the 76ers, but Philadelphia broke the game open with a 39-point spree in the second period for a 66-48 halftime lead.

The 76ers Wilt Chamberlain led all scorers with 27 points. Kojis topped Chicago with 17.

Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer who was held to just 13 points in the San Francisco's loss to Chicago Wednesday night, got only 22, far below his average, against New York. Tom Meschery, however, took up the slack with 28. Dick Barnett led the Knicks with 21.

Barry and Tom Van Arsdale got into a pushing match in the first period and it developed into a fist fight in which Barry was floored before the officials broke it up. Both players stayed in the game.

Baltimore broke up a tight game with 11 straight last-quarter points to beat Cincinnati. Gus Johnson, who finished with 19 points, started the spurt with a field goal, and Don Ohl put Baltimore ahead to stay at 100-99 with a basket with 9:20 left.

Dog Racing Bill Introduced In West Virginia Legislature

CHARLESTON (AP) — A dog racing bill was off and running again in the West Virginia Legislature today — a track proven to none too speedy for this "legislative dog" in the past.

Senate Majority Leader William A. Moreland, D-Monongalia introduced the bill to permit pari-mutuel betting at dog race tracks after July 1, 1968.

A similar bill introduced in the 1965 session failed to get around the first turn, with a deep grave dug in the Senate Finance Committee.

Moreland's bill levies stiff taxes to be paid by operators of the tracks to enrichen state coffers.

Construction on dog race tracks would be authorized to begin as soon as the bill is passed, but a provision in the measure would prevent pari-mutuel betting until after the start of the 1968 fiscal year.

Dog racing met with strong protests in the 1965 session from persons objecting to opening up the state to more gambling.

Church groups said the state did not need that kind of money.

Moreland's bill would put control of the dog racing tracks under the West Virginia Racing Commission, which now oversees the state's horse racing tracks in the Northern and Eastern panhandles.

Operators of dog racing tracks of one mile or more would pay $500 per day to the state and those tracks of less than one mile would pay $250 per day.

In addtioin, heavy daily taxes would be levied against the daily pari-mutuel pool.

A 4 per cent tax would be levied against the first $50,000, 5 per cent on the second $50,000 or less, and 6 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool in excess of $100,000.

The bill also would place strict requirements on persons who would be eligible to get a license to operate the tracks.

Present law prohibits giving a license to any person representing a firm whose officers singly or collectively have been convicted of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude 10 years prior to the date of the license application.

Moreland's bill would stiffen this provision to make a conviction of such a charge grounds for disqualification for a license, regardless of when the conviction occurred.

The bill also would eliminate the existing local option provision contained in the horse racing law. Neither dog racing nor horse racing would be subject to local option election.

Supporters of the bill two years ago maintained it would be an effective way for the state to add needed revenue.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Who's Watching?

The most fascinating thing about TV today is the continuing debate over who is watching it and if they are watching more, less or about the same. Nobody in the industry seems to care how people are watching, that is, whether they are in bed half asleep or watching while reading the paper or walking the baby.

Hal Humphrey

The important thing is to make sure the set is on and that there are human beings somewhere in the household.

-:-

LOUIS HARRIS, whom you may have seen sitting alongside CBS' Walter Cronkite on election nights, announced the results of a new poll this week which he says proves the better educated are watching TV less. Also, the more affluent (earning more than $10,000 a year) are not turning on their TV sets as much as they used to.

The networks always poohpooh the Harris Survey on TV watching (although CBS thinks he's fine for predicting election results) and immediately pull out their Nielsen audience data books to show that the rich and smart are viewing more TV then they ever did. In this latest Harris Survey, however, he really has upset the apple cart by flatly stating, "For the population as a whole, better than 4 out of 10 homes don't watch TV at all during prime evening time."

-:-

FURTHER ON in his TV survey Harris adds insult to insult by reporting, "And there are also distinct signs that one former bastion of the general television audience — older people who have no young people in their household — are losing some of the TV habit."

Harris does not say exactly what the old folks are up to these nights, but it shouldn't mystify anyone that their enchantment with TV is diminishing. Virtually everyone on TV today is young and handsome and speaking a language the oldsters don't dig.

What few old folks there were on TV have been killed off. Grandma on "Road West" got it the first week out, and Grandpa is liquidated in the Feb. 6 episode of "Road West." Even Lassie moved in with a younger crowd a few seasons back and left Grandpa behind. Everything is for the kids on TV now — no more Gabby Hayeses or Walter Brennans.

-:-

AS FOR THE $10,000-and-over income earners, it's safe to assume they are spending an increasing amount of their budget just to get away from the TV being displayed on the tube this season. The same applies to the better educated. They can get as much challenge (or relaxation) reading the comic strips as watching most of today's TV fare.

How does it happen that Nielsen's survey reveals that the affluent, the oldsters and college grads are sopping up more TV?

The mysteries of research always have been beyond me, but I would imagine that when Nielsen and Harris go out into the field to ask questions they ask them differently so naturally get different answers. Since we must assume both men are doing an honest job and are checking reactions to TV in the same country, there can be no other reason for such disparity between them.

WHAT IT ALL PROVES beyond any doubt, of course, is that surveying the habits of TV watchers is a very inaccurate art. Unfortunately, the industry prefers to believe Nielsen in this instance, rather than the negative Louis Harris, so we'll see no innovations in next season's TV programming by the networks either.

In 1946 and 1947 when large segments of the public became disaffected with the movies they were seeing in movie theaters, this disaffection was detected immediately at the box office. The panicky movie studio chiefs went off in all kinds of directions — 3D movies, wide screen — to lure the audience back. But at least they were doing something and finally hit upon the idea of making fewer but better movies.

The TV industry hasn't this accurate a gauge on its audience but naturally prefers to believe the piper who tells them everything is fine — people are still watching five hours a day of TV and loving it.

I wonder, though, if some of the network nabobs aren't waking up at night with the gnawing thought that Harris could be right, and if nothing is done to stop the disaffection there might come a day when millions of people will be using their TV set about as often as their vacuum cleaner.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Who's Watching?

The most fascinating thing about TV today is the continuing debate over who is watching it and if they are watching more, less or about the same. Nobody in the industry seems to care how people are watching, that is, whether they are in bed half asleep or watching while reading the paper or walking the baby.

Hal Humphrey

The important thing is to make sure the set is on and that there are human beings somewhere in the household.

-:-

LOUIS HARRIS, whom you may have seen sitting alongside CBS' Walter Cronkite on election nights, announced the results of a new poll this week which he says proves the better educated are watching TV less. Also, the more affluent (earning more than $10,000 a year) are not turning on their TV sets as much as they used to.

The networks always poohpooh the Harris Survey on TV watching (although CBS thinks he's fine for predicting election results) and immediately pull out their Nielsen audience data books to show that the rich and smart are viewing more TV then they ever did. In this latest Harris Survey, however, he really has upset the apple cart by flatly stating, "For the population as a whole, better than 4 out of 10 homes don't watch TV at all during prime evening time."

-:-

FURTHER ON in his TV survey Harris adds insult to insult by reporting, "And there are also distinct signs that one former bastion of the general television audience — older people who have no young people in their household — are losing some of the TV habit."

Harris does not say exactly what the old folks are up to these nights, but it shouldn't mystify anyone that their enchantment with TV is diminishing. Virtually everyone on TV today is young and handsome and speaking a language the oldsters don't dig.

What few old folks there were on TV have been killed off. Grandma on "Road West" got it the first week out, and Grandpa is liquidated in the Feb. 6 episode of "Road West." Even Lassie moved in with a younger crowd a few seasons back and left Grandpa behind. Everything is for the kids on TV now -- no more Gabby Hayeses or Walter Brennans.

-:-

AS FOR THE $10,000-and-over income earners, it's safe to assume they are spending an increasing amount of their budget just to get away from the TV being displayed on the tube this season. The same applies to the better educated. They can get as much challenge (or relaxation) reading the comic strips as watching most of today's TV fare.

How does it happen that Nielsen's survey reveals that the affluent, the oldsters and college grads are sopping up more TV?

The mysteries of research always have been beyond me, but I would imagine that when Nielsen and Harris go out into the field to ask questions they ask them differently so naturally get different answers. Since we must assume both men are doing an honest job and are checking reactions to TV in the same country, there can be no other reason for such disparity between them.

WHAT IT ALL PROVES beyond any doubt, of course, is that surveying the habits of TV watchers is a very inaccurate art. Unfortunately, the industry prefers to believe Nielsen in this instance, rather than the negative Louis Harris, so we'll see no innovations in next season's TV programming by the networks either.

In 1946 and 1947 when large segments of the public became disaffected with the movies they were seeing in movie theaters, this disaffection was detected immediately at the box office. The panicky movie studio chiefs went off in all kinds of directions — 3D movies, wide screen — to lure the audience back. But at least they were doing something and finally hit upon the idea of making fewer but better movies.

The TV industry hasn't this accurate a gauge on its audience but naturally prefers to believe the piper who tells them everything is fine — people are still watching five hours a day of TV and loving it.

I wonder, though, if some of the network nabobs aren't waking up at night with the gnawing thought that Harris could be right, and if nothing is done to stop the disaffection there might come a day when millions of people will be using their TV set about as often as their vacuum cleaner.

'Other Deductions' Merit Attention

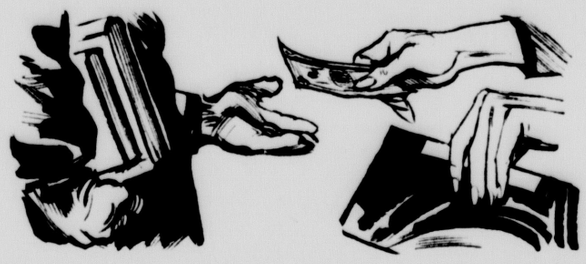
BY RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.



The final classification for deductions on your income tax return is labeled "Miscellaneous Deductions." Enter here all proper deductions you couldn't fit into any other grouping.

If any of these are elements in your return you may list here:

Child care or invalid care payments.

Storm, fire, flood, auto accident or theft losses not covered by insurance.

Unreimbursed work expenses, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions from your wages or losses of or damage to your employer's property.

Union dues.

Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job.

Educational expenses, if the prime purpose of the training was to maintain or improve your skills required on your job or if it was to meet your employer's specific job requirements.

Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with a court decree or legal separation agreement. (She must include such alimony as income on her return.)

Unreimbursed entertainment expense required by the nature of your work.

Expenses incurred in connection with the production or collection of income. If you are an investor you may deduct fees paid an investment counselor or for subscriptions to financial publications and for the rental of a safety deposit box for the protection of your securities.

Tax counsel fees paid a tax adviser.

—:—

ANY WOMAN may obtain a child care deduction of up to $900 for the care of children or disabled dependents if the expenses were incurred in order for her to go to work or to seek work.

Unless the child being cared for is physically or mentally incapable of self - support, the youngster must be under 13 to qualify.

Where one child is involved, the maximum child care deduction is the lesser of the actual expense or $600. If two or more children are being cared for, the maximum is $900.

A working wife who has a husband able to work must file a joint return before she can claim this deduction. And in their case, the deduction is reduced by the excess of their combined income over $6,000.

Since the maximum deduction is $600 if one child is involved, it would be ruled out if combined income is as much as $6,600 or if two or more children were being cared for and the combined income was $6,900 or more.

Casualty and theft losses are deductible after you have absorbed the first $100 of each loss yourself. Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the total loss.

The loss is determined by comparing the actual value of the item immediately before the casualty and its actual value immediately afterward. In no event may it exceed the adjusted basis of the property (generally its purchase price).

The $100 rule does not apply to losses of business property.

Feb. 8 Hearing Set In Charge Of Reckless Flying

A hearing has been set Feb. 8 for William E. Seidner, 21, of Lisbon, charged with reckless operation of an airplane as a result of a reported "buzzing" of an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser Sunday.

Seidner, of 133 Green St., pleaded not guilty before County Judge Edward Greenameyer at County Court in Salem this week.

State Patrolmen L. J. Hephner and J. W. VanHorne cited Seidner, whom they claim flew at treetop level along Route 45, south of Salem, Sunday as they were parked near Route 344.

The officers followed the plane to Koon's Airport on Route 9 and questioned Seidner, who has a student license. He said he saw the cruiser, but didn't believe the plane was as low as the officers reported.

Ashland Will Expand Output Of Chemicals

ASHLAND, Ky. — The Ashland Oil and Refining Co. will expand its petrochemical manufacturing facilities for benzene, toluene and xylene — raw materials which are currently in short supply in the chemicals, plastics, synthetic fibers and other industries.

John R. Hall, vice president, said Ashland will increase by 60 per cent its production of these petrochemicals during 1967 at its Catlettsburg, Ky., and Buffalo, N. Y., refineries.

Cost of the expansion will be in excess of one million dollars. It is scheduled for completion in late 1967 and will increase the company's capacity to approximately 40 million gallons of benzene, 35 million gallons of toluene and 35 million gallons of xylene annually.

'Other Deductions' Merit Attention

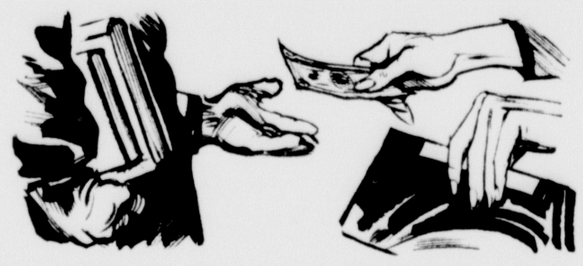
BY RAY DL CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.



The final classification for deductions on your income tax return is labeled "Miscellaneous Deductions." Enter here all proper deductions you couldn't fit into any other grouping.

If any of these are elements in your return you may list here:

Child care or invalid care payments.

Storm, fire, flood, auto accident or theft losses not covered by insurance.

Unreimbursed work expenses, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions from your wages or losses of or damage to your employer's property.

Union dues.

Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job.

Educational expenses, if the prime purpose of the training was to maintain or improve your skills required on your job or if it was to meet your employer's specific job requirements.

Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with a court decree or legal separation agreement. (She must include such alimony as income on her return.)

Unreimbursed entertainment expense required by the nature of your work.

Expenses incurred in connection with the production or collection of income. If you are an investor you may deduct fees paid an investment counselor or for subscriptions to financial publications and for the rental of a safety deposit box for the protection of your securities.

Tax counsel fees paid a tax adviser.

—:—

ANY WOMAN may obtain a child care deduction of up to $900 for the care of children or disabled dependents if the expenses were incurred in order for her to go to work or to seek work.

Unless the child being cared for is physically or mentally incapable of self - support, the youngster must be under 13 to qualify.

Where one child is involved, the maximum child care deduction is the lesser of the actual expense or $600. If two or more children are being cared for, the maximum is $900.

A working wife who has a husband able to work must file a joint return before she can claim this deduction. And in their case, the deduction is reduced by the excess of their combined income over $6,000.

Since the maximum deduction is $600 if one child is involved, it would be ruled out if combined income is as much as $6,600 or if two or more children were being cared for and the combined income was $6,900 or more.

Casualty and theft losses are deductible after you have absorbed the first $100 of each loss yourself. Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the total loss.

The loss is determined by comparing the actual value of the item immediately before the casualty and its actual value immediately afterward. In no event may it exceed the adjusted basis of the property (generally its purchase price).

The $100 rule does not apply to losses of business property.

Feb. 8 Hearing Set In Charge Of Reckless Flying

A hearing has been set Feb. 8 for William E. Seidner, 21, of Lisbon, charged with reckless operation of an airplane as a result of a reported "buzzing" of an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser Sunday.

Seidner, of 133 Green St., pleaded not guilty before County Judge Edward Greenameyer at County Court in Salem this week.

State Patrolmen L. J. Hephner and J. W. VanHorne cited Seidner, whom they claim flew at treetop level along Route 45, south of Salem, Sunday as they were parked near Route 344.

The officers followed the plane to Koon's Airport on Route 9 and questioned Seidner, who has a student license. He said he saw the cruiser, but didn't believe the plane was as low as the officers reported.

Ashland Will Expand Output Of Chemicals

ASHLAND, Ky. — The Ashland Oil and Refining Co. will expand its petrochemical manufacturing facilities for benzene, toluene and xylene — raw materials which are currently in short supply in the chemicals, plastics, synthetic fibers and other industries.

John R. Hall, vice president, said Ashland will increase by 60 per cent its production of these petrochemicals during 1967 at its Catlettsburg, Ky., and Buffalo, N. Y., refineries.

Cost of the expansion will be in excess of one million dollars. It is scheduled for completion in late 1967 and will increase the company's capacity to approximately 40 million gallons of benzene, 35 million gallons of toluene and 35 million gallons of xylene annually.

Airliner Hits Snow Plow At Airport

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The six-ton snow plow loomed up ahead of the United Air Lines Viscount moments after it had set down at Norfolk airport, and to the pilot "it looked like he was coming through the windshield."

With the sickening sound of metal ripping metal, the four-engine turboprop plane — carrying 46 passengers and a crew of four — tore head-on Thursday into the plow, which had just cleared the runway of four inches of snow.

Locked together — plane on top, snow plow trapped below — the two screeched 100 yards. Part of the aircraft's underbelly was torn away, a landing gear sheared off. Near the wings, twisted steel gripped the plow.

But only the snowplow driver, Charlie Willie Jr., 30, was badly injured. Willie spent two hours trapped in the crumpled cab of the plow before cranes lifted the plane and freed him. He suffered a broken knee and multiple cuts.

Seven of the passengers who had ridden United Air Lines Flight 701 from Washington received minor injuries. They were treated at hospitals and released. All those on the plane slid down a canvas chute to safety.

Late Sen. Kerr's Name Pops Up In Trial Of Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The name of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma has moved to the forefront as Bobby Baker erects his defense against charges of income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy.

Defense Attorney Edward Bennett Williams told a U.S. District Court jury Thursday he would prove that Baker turned over to Kerr in late 1962 about $100,000 in senatorial campaign contributions.

The government charges Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, kept $80,000 of this sum for himself and spent it on his financially troubled Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md.

Baker returns to the witness stand today as his trial moves into its 10th day.

Testifying Thursday after the prosecution rested its case, Baker said that instead of underpaying his income taxes by $22,000 in 1961 and 1962, as the government alleges, he actually overpaid.

Testimony has shown the $100 000 in cash was raised in the fall of 1962 by California savings and loan executives who had just successfully opposed a tax provision in pending legislation.

The money was intended, Williams said, to be delivered to Kerr for distribution among various Democratic senators.

UMW Increases Death Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Death benefits for widows of bituminous coal miners are being increased by the United Mine Workers of America welfare and retirement fund.

A spokesman said the benefits go from $1,000 to $5,000 for widows of miners who die before retirement and from $1,000 to $2,000 for widows of pensioned miners. The change applies to widows of miners whose deaths occur Thursday or after, but not to widows whose husbands died prior to Thursday.

Death benefits to widows will start with a payment of $350, and $75 a month thereafter until the full amount is paid. Hospital and medical benefits for widows and surviving children will continue during the period death benefits are paid.

The spokesman also said the eligibility age of miners' children for the medical care benefits is being raised from 18 to 22 immediately.

Airliner Hits Snow Plow At Airport

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The six-ton snow plow loomed up ahead of the United Air Lines Viscount moments after it had set down at Norfolk airport, and to the pilot "it looked like he was coming through the windshield."

With the sickening sound of metal ripping metal, the four-engine turboprop plane — carrying 46 passengers and a crew of four — tore head-on Thursday into the plow, which had just cleared the runway of four inches of snow.

Locked together — plane on top, snow plow trapped below — the two screeched 100 yards. Part of the aircraft's underbelly was torn away, a landing gear sheared off. Near the wings, twisted steel gripped the plow.

But only the snowplow driver, Charlie Willie Jr., 30, was badly injured. Willie spent two hours trapped in the crumpled cab of the plow before cranes lifted the plane and freed him. He suffered a broken knee and multiple cuts.

Seven of the passengers who had ridden United Air Lines Flight 701 from Washington received minor injuries. They were treated at hospitals and released. All those on the plane slid down a canvas chute to safety.

Late Sen. Kerr's Name Pops Up In Trial Of Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The name of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma has moved to the forefront as Bobby Baker erects his defense against charges of income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy.

Defense Attorney Edward Bennett Williams told a U.S. District Court jury Thursday he would prove that Baker turned over to Kerr in late 1962 about $100,000 in senatorial campaign contributions.

The government charges Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, kept $80,000 of this sum for himself and spent it on his financially troubled Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md.

Baker returns to the witness stand today as his trial moves into its 10th day.

Testifying Thursday after the prosecution rested its case, Baker said that instead of underpaying his income taxes by $22,000 in 1961 and 1962, as the government alleges, he actually overpaid.

Testimony has shown the $100,000 in cash was raised in the fall of 1962 by California savings and loan executives who had just successfully opposed a tax provision in pending legislation.

The money was intended, Williams said, to be delivered to Kerr for distribution among various Democratic senators.

UMW Increases Death Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Death benefits for widows of bituminous coal miners are being increased by the United Mine Workers of America welfare and retirement fund.

A spokesman said the benefits go from $1,000 to $5,000 for widows of miners who die before retirement and from $1,000 to $2,000 for widows of pensioned miners. The change applies to widows of miners whose deaths occur Thursday or after, but not to widows whose husbands died prior to Thursday.

Death benefits to widows will start with a payment of $350, and $75 a month thereafter until the full amount is paid. Hospital and medical benefits for widows and surviving children will continue during the period death benefits are paid.

The spokesman also said the eligibility age of miners' children for the medical care benefits is being raised from 18 to 22 immediately.

—OUR PURCHASING POLICY—
We at Brown's Auto consider our cars to be of highest Quality because when we buy our used cars we do not buy in volume but rather purchase every car as if it were going to be for our own personal use. We leave the balance of used cars for those dealers who buy in volume, those who have more than one lot to supply, or dealers with big overhead — we buy quality cars for you, the quality public — see our selection now.

Junior Editors Quiz on THREAD

QUESTION: What is thread made of?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Indians used thin roots of pine and spruce trees for thread, but our thread comes from various fibers, which are tiny hair-like structures. Many fibers come from plants, such as cotton. Others come from the soft lining of the silkworm's cocoon—giving strong and lustrous silk sewing thread. Still other fibers are from the work of chemists as they make dramatic new materials from water, air and coal, such as nylon. Many seamstresses use thread which goes with the fabric being sewed; cotton thread for cotton, silk thread for silk.

Cotton thread has gone through many processes before you buy a spool of it. First, the fibers were pulled mechanically off the cotton seeds, then cleaned, also by machine. They were pressed into fluffy blanket rolls (1) carded and straightened to make thick rolls of yarn (2). These were drawn out, the fibers being twisted into strands (3), two or three of which were then twisted tightly together by machine to make thread. This had to be bleached, soaked in sodium hydroxide (mercerized) and dyed before it was finally rolled on the spool which you bought.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Hold a bit of thread between fingers of both hands. Twist the thread to right in right hand and to left in left hand. This will open the thread and you can see the strands (3).

Masters Will Make Bid For Common Pleas Post

Beaver County District Attorney Robert Masters of Midland has announced he will seek the nomination for Beaver County Common Pleas Court in the May primary election.

Masters, elected District Attorney in 1963, said he will seek the nomination for the bench post now held by Judge James Rowley "to give the Courts of Beaver County a balance which does not presently exist."

"This balance must embody the depth and breadth of all facets of the law, both civil and criminal, and must embrace more than one philosophy. Only with this balance of experience and thought can a court provide to the people it serves a properly - balance approach to justice.

"Additionally, I must point out that none of the present judges has had the intense experience in Criminal Court which I have obtained as District Attorney, and previously, as an Assistant District Attorney. This is especially worthy of note in light of recent Supreme Court decisions which have drastically revised criminal law procedures.

"Furthermore, I have a fervent desire to carry to the judicial bench the concentrated efforts I have made as District Attorney in the promotion of education as a deterrent to crime, especially among juveniles. If elected Judge, I would ask the President Judge to assign to me the full load of Juvenile Court Cases, so that I might work even further and more closely with this critical problem which is close to my heart."

During his term, his office has conducted campaigns against underage drinking, pornography and narcotics addiction. He and his staff have presented assembly programs before virtually every high school in the county, distributing informative pamphlets and providing a lecture following the showing of a film on the subject.

A partner in the law firm of Suffoletta & Masters in Midland since 1957, Masters is a member of the Beaver County, Pennsylvania, and American Bar Associations.

A graduate of Midland High School, Grove City College and the University of Pittsburgh Law School, Masters also served as a special agent with the U.S. Army Counter - Intelligence Corps.

Married to the former Nancy Martino of Rochester, Masters has two children.

Crash Hurts Five On Road Near Lisbon

Five were injured in a three-car mishap on Route 164 north of Lisbon Thursday afternoon at 3:55, the Ohio Highway Patrol has reported.

Cars operated by Clifford Fowler, 18, of 425 N. Market St., Lisbon, Ronald J. Daugherty, 22, of Salem R. D. 4 and Ronald Dotson, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 1 were involved.

Officers said Daugherty was headed north, following a school bus, when the bus made a left turn about two miles from Lisbon.

Daugherty also made a left turn behind the bus, and was struck by the southbound car of Fowler, which slid into another northbound auto operated by Dotson.

Taken to Salem Central Clinic were Fowler and Daugherty and three passengers in the latter's auto — Wilma Daugherty, 18, of Salem R. D. 4, Myrtle Daugherty, 43, of Leetonia R.D. 2, and Carl Leonard, 28, of Leetonia R.D. 2.

Daugherty was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Officers said there was severe damage to the side of his 1967 coach, to the front of Fowler's 1966 sedan and to the front of Dotson's 1958 sedan.

Donald James Kerr, 24, of 467 1st Ave., East Liverpool, escaped injury when his car veered off Route 170, about a mile north of Negley, yesterday afternoon.

Officers said he pulled out to pass a southbound auto as a third car driven by Harry McDanel, 56, of Rogers R.D. 1 pulled out to pass a fourth southbound car.

When Kerr saw McDanel's car, he applied his brakes and lost control, the car going off the roadway.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

QUESTION: What does the word "sanctify" mean?
ANSWER: "Sanctify" means to separate to a holy or sacred use. It does not imply sinlessness. I believe a few passages where this term is used will help.

Ex. 13:2 reads, "Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast; it is mine." This certainly does not mean that the animals or the first-born of men were sinless. In fact, animals have no moral qualities of sin or sinlessness. It simply means that they were set apart for the service of God.

In Gen. 2:3 we read, "God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it." Once more, here was a day that was to be set apart for the service of God.

Although the church at Corinth had many wrongs, Paul said the church of God were "sanctified in Christ Jesus." A Christian is one who consecrates himself to the service of God, and are, in Bible language, sanctified or made saints.

From these few passages, we conclude that in the Bible anyone or anything set apart to the service of God was sanctified. Under the Jewish law a person or thing once sanctified to the service of God could never afterwards be used for a common or unholy purpose. The N.T. warns that it is better for a person to have never known the truth than, after he has known it, to turn again from the service of God to "the weak and beggarly elements of the world."

Crash Hurts Five On Road Near Lisbon

Five were injured in a three-car mishap on Route 164 north of Lisbon Thursday afternoon at 3:55, the Ohio Highway Patrol has reported.

Cars operated by Clifford Fowler, 18, of 425 N. Market St., Lisbon, Ronald J. Daugherty, 22, of Salem R. D. 4 and Ronald Dotson, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 1 were involved.

Officers said Daugherty was headed north, following a school bus, when the bus made a left turn about two miles from Lisbon.

Daugherty also made a left turn behind the bus, and was struck by the southbound car of Fowler, which slid into another northbound auto operated by Dotson.

Taken to Salem Central Clinic were Fowler and Daugherty and three passengers in the latter's auto — Wilma Daugherty, 18, of Salem R. D. 4, Myrtle Daugherty, 43, of Leetonia R.D. 2, and Carl Leonard, 28, of Leetonia R.D. 2.

Daugherty was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Officers said there was severe damage to the side of his 1967 coach, to the front of Fowler's 1966 sedan and to the front of Dotson's 1958 sedan.

Donald James Kerr, 24, of 467 1st Ave., East Liverpool, escaped injury when his car veered off Route 170, about a mile north of Negley, yesterday afternoon.

Officers said he pulled out to pass a southbound auto as a third car driven by Harry McDanel, 56, of Rogers R.D. 1 pulled out to pass a fourth southbound car.

When Kerr saw McDanel's car, he applied his brakes and lost control, the car going off the roadway.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

QUESTION: What does the word "sanctify" mean?

ANSWER: "Sanctify" means to separate to a holy or sacred use. It does not imply sinlessness. I believe a few passages where this term is used will help.

Ex. 13:2 reads, "Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast; it is mine." This certainly does not mean that the animals or the first-born of men were sinless. In fact, animals have no moral qualities of sin or sinlessness. It simply means that they were set apart for the service of God.

In Gen. 2:3 we read, "God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it." Once more, here was a day that was to be set apart for the service of God.

Although the church at Corinth had many wrongs, Paul said the church of God were "sanctified in Christ Jesus." A Christian is one who consecrates himself to the service of God, and are, in Bible language, sanctified or made saints.

From these few passages, we conclude that in the Bible anyone or anything set apart to the service of God was sanctified. Under the Jewish law a person or thing once sanctified to the service of God could never afterwards be used for a common or unholy purpose. The N.T. warns that it is better for a person to have never known the truth than, after he has known it, to turn again from the service of God to "the weak and beggarly elements of the world."
